Archetypal Process Self Divine In:

The Archetypal Process David Griffin, 1989 Archetypal Process is a pioneering study linking the ideas of process philosophy as developed by Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne with the archetypal psychology of C G Jung and James Hillman This is the first work to examine the interconnections of these two modes of thought Archetypal Process examines the importance of cosmological thinking and the need to ground archetypal psychology in a metaphysical philosophical framework It treats the necessity for symbol and myth the nature of the spirit and language as a metaphorical vehicle of thought and finally it adds a much needed feminist perspective to the debate

C. G. Jung and the Alchemical Imagination Stanton Marlan, 2020-12-29 Winner of the 2021 American Board Academy of Psychoanalysis Annual Book Prize for Best Theoretical Book in Psychoanalysis Stanton Marlan brings together writings which span the course of his career examining Jungian psychology and the alchemical imagination as an opening to the mysteries of psyche and soul Several chapters describe a telos that aims at the mysterious goal of the Philosophers Stone a move replete with classical and postmodern ideas catalysed by prompts from the unconscious dreams images fantasies and paradoxical conundrums Psyche and matter are seen with regards to soul light and darkness in terms of illumination and order and chaos as linked in the image of chaosmos Marlan explores the richness of the alchemical ideas of Carl Jung James Hillman and others and their value for a revisioning of psychology In doing so this volume challenges any tendency to literalism and essentialism and contributes to an integration between Jung s classical vision of a psychology of alchemy and Hillman s Alchemical Psychology C G Jung and the Alchemical Imagination will be a valuable resource for academics scholars and students of Jungian and post Jungian studies Jungian analysis and psychotherapy It will also be of great interest to Jungian psychologists and Jungian analysts in practice and in training

Behind the Altar Linda E. Olds, 2026-02-26 In an age of increasing religious diversity and pluralism many people resonate to spirituality beyond only one tradition But how to find a path that has depth discernment and comprehensiveness connecting to all one knows Drawing from cross cultural religious traditions psychological research and personal inquiry Olds offers vocabulary concepts and maps of self and world as resources for exploring the ways psychological and spiritual development intersect and interweave deepening understanding of one s core tradition as well An integrative model differentiates soul inner wholeness and spirit nondual awareness as two complementary dimensions of the spiritual search that echo tendencies West and East In this comprehensive look at the field of psychology and religion Indra s net or cosmic web provides a guiding metaphor for exploring facets often underrepresented including transpersonal development of a deeper self and higher consciousness beyond ego meditation and mysticism symbolic Jungian and imaginal approaches God language and nondual perspectives spiritual embodiment gender issues and dialogues with science An immanent emphasis on divine sacredness in the world is contrasted with more familiar transcendent assumptions underscoring themes of interconnectedness in world religions including Celtic Christianity

Jung on Synchronicity and Yijing Young Woon Ko, 2011-01-18 Jung s understanding of Yijing for supporting the synchronistic principle reveals the key issues of his archetypal theory Jung s archetypal theory which is the basic motif of his understanding of Yijing illuminates the religious significance of Yijing Jung defines the human experience of the divine as an archetypal process by way of which the unconscious conveys the human religious experience In this way the divine and the unconscious mind are inseparable from each other For the human experience of the divine Jung s archetypal theory developed in a theistic tradition is encountered with the religious character of the non theistic tradition of Yijing From Jung s partial adaptation of Yijing however we notice the differences between Jung s archetypal psychology and the Yijing cosmological view This difference represents the difference between the Western and the East Asian tradition This aspect is well shown in the fact that Jung s theoretical assumption for the definition of archetype is deeply associated with Plato s Idea and the Kantian a priori category Accordingly Jung brings their timeless spaceless realm of archetype into the synchronistic phenomenon of the psyche and identifies the Yijing text with the readable archetype Yet the synchronistic moment that Jung presents is the phenomenon always involved in subjective experience and intuition which are developed in the duration of time The synchronistic phenomenon is not transcendent or the objective flowing of time in itself regardless of our subjective experience
