Archetype Architecture And The Writer:

Archetype, Architecture, and the Writer Bettina L. Knapp, 1986-04-22 Altogether the work is a delight offering an unusual provocative view on the disparate texts with the added pleasure of lucid graceful prose Journal of Modern Literature Bettina Knapp probes the nature meaning and use of the architectural metaphors and archetypes that pervade all literature

Domestic Modernism, the Interwar Novel, and E.H. Young Chiara Briganti, Kathy Mezei, 2016-12-05 Domestic Modernism the Interwar Novel and E H Young provides a valuable analytical model for reading a large body of modernist works by women who have suffered not only from a lack of critical attention but from the assumption that experimental modernist techniques are the only expression of the modern In the process of documenting the publication and reception history of E H Young s novels the authors suggest a paradigm for analyzing the situation of women writers during the interwar years Their discussion of Young in the context of both canonical and noncanonical writers challenges the generic label and literary status of the domestic novel as well as facile assumptions about popular and middlebrow fiction canon formation aesthetic value and modernity The authors also make a significant contribution to discussions of the everyday and to the burgeoning field of homeculture as they show that the fictional embodiment and inscription of home by writers such as Young Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Ivy Compton Burnett Lettice Cooper E M Delafield Stella Gibbons Storm Jameson and E Arnot Robertson epitomize the long standing symbiosis between architecture and literature or more specifically between the house and the novel

J. Henry Shorthouse, the Author of John Inglesant Charles W. Spurgeon, 2003 When J Henry Shorthouse 1834 1903 published John Inglesant in 1881 he contributed a unique synthesis of Anglo Catholic sensibilities to the enduring legacy of the Oxford Movement Although his philosophical romance has been acclaimed the greatest Anglo Catholic novel in English literature and the one English novel that speaks immediately to human intuition without regard to the reader s own faith or philosophy his most enduring contributions are the religion of John Inglesant an Anglo Catholic synthesis of obedience and freedom faith and reason and the sacramental vision of the myth of Little Gidding Afflicted with a lifelong stammer the author of John Inglesant proved himself a master of cadenced rhythms and enspirited prose in quest of the great musical novel Delineating parallels between sixteenth century and Victorian England Shorthouse integrated Quietism with Platonism into a religious aesthetic a sacramental vision of the Divine Principle of the Platonic Christ Studied chronologically Shorthouse s transition from Quaker to Broad Church Sacramentalist provides informing comparison with T S Eliot s conversion from Unitarian to Anglo Catholic as his myth of Little Gidding informs the historical imagination of Eliot s Christian poetry and dramas The religious and developmental nature of the work of both artists affords analogies with C G Jung s psychology of Individuation

Post-Jungian Criticism James S. Baumlin, Tita French Baumlin, George H. Jensen, 2004-02-01 This groundbreaking collection brings the range and diversity of post Jungian thought into the realm of contemporary literary and cultural criticism These essays explore expand critique and apply post Jungian critical theory as they revisit and reread Jung's own writings from numerous perspectives. No longer treated as a source of clear unequivocal authoritative pronouncement, Jung's writings are themselves subjected to critical deconstructive readings, and several of the essays confront head on Jung's evident racism, antifeminism, anti-Semitism, and political conservatism. While not downplaying such charges, the contributors outline an alternative post-Jungian theory responsive to contemporary feminist, postcolonial, and poststructural concerns. The result is not just a critical reinterpretation but more important, a regeneration of Jungian thought.

Carl Gustav Jung Frank McLynn, 1997. Thirty-five years after his death, Carl Jung is remembered not only for his valuable contributions to psychotherapy and to our understanding of the inner workings of the mind, but also for the enduring controversies he sparked. McLynn's biography of this great Swiss thinker examines Jung's early career as an admirer and protégé of Sigmund Freud and the discoveries that made Jung's presence increasingly accepted in modern thought.

New Perspectives on Safavid Iran Colin P. Mitchell, 2011-03-03. Dedicated to the renowned Safavid historian Roger Savory, this book brings together a collection of studies on the Safavid state of Iran, 1501-1722, from the perspectives of political, social, literary, and artistic history. Savory, a doyen of Safavid studies in the 1960s and 1970s, was responsible for expanding and popularizing the study of Iran in the 16th and 17th centuries. To celebrate this legacy, well-established scholars of medieval and early modern Iran have contributed specific studies reflecting an array of research interests and specializations, which include critical re-examinations of issues of gender, literature, art, and architecture, cultural and linguistic currents, illustrated historical chronicles, and courtly and administrative practices under the Safavid dynasty. This unique compilation is indicative of a growing interest in Iran and Iranian studies in both the academic and public spheres and, as such, contains a number of new perspectives which will serve to supplement and re-interpret the existing corpus of Safavid scholarly literature to date. It will be an important text for scholars of world history and Middle East studies, as well as to historians in general.

The Agent in the Margin Clara A.B. Joseph, 2008-10-10. The Agent in the Margin: Nayantara Sahgal's Gandhian Fiction is a comprehensive study of the literary works of Nayantara Sahgal, daughter of Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, the first woman president of the United Nations General Assembly, and niece of Jawaharlal Nehru, India's first prime minister. Clara A.B. Joseph introduces Mahatma Gandhi's political and philosophical thought to literary analysis and utilizes non-structuralist aspects of Louis Althusser's theories of ideology to trace how characters marginalized by gender, class, race, and language in Sahgal's work assume agency, challenging poststructuralist theories of cultural and ideological determinism. She considers how gender complicates autobiography and how the roles of daughter, virgin, wife, widow, and alien serve, often ironically, to highlight human dignity.
