Arguing Exchanging Reasons Face To Face:

Arguing Dale Hample, 2006-04-21 Arguing Exchanging Reasons Face to Face describes the process and products of face to face argument. Author Dale Hample presents arguing as a type of interpersonal interaction rather than as a kind of text or a feature of a public speech. He focuses primarily on argument production and explores the rhetorical and philosophical traditions of arguing, keeping as the volume's main focus the integration of arguing into the literatures on message production, conflict management, and interpersonal communication. Distinctive in its approach, this volume offers a synthesis of empirical research on situational and individual differences in arguing, an exploration of argument frames, perceptions, and expectations about arguing, an examination of the conversational and rational natures of argument products, a psychological description of inventional processes, and a full chapter on the emotional experience of arguing. This unique work is appropriate for scholars and graduate students in argumentation, discourse, persuasion, conflict management, interpersonal communication, organizational communication, and message production. Interpersonal Arguing Dale Hample, 2018

Local Theories of Argument Dale Hample, 2021-03-25 Argumentation is often understood as a coherent set of Western theories birthed in Athens and developing throughout the Roman period, the Middle Ages, the Enlightenment, and Renaissance, and into the present century. Ideas have been nuanced, developed, and revised, but still the outline of argumentation theory has been recognizable for centuries or so it has seemed to Western scholars. The 2019 Alta Conference on Argumentation, co-sponsored by the National Communication Association and the American Forensic Association, aimed to question the generality of these intellectual traditions. This resulting collection of essays deals with the possibility of having local theories of argument local to a particular time, a particular kind of issue, a particular place, or a particular culture. Many of the papers argue for reconsidering basic ideas about arguing to represent the uniqueness of some moment or location of discourse. Other scholars are more comfortable with the Western traditions and find them congenial to the analysis of arguments that originate in discernibly distinct circumstances. The papers represent different methodologies, cover the experiences of different nations at different times, examine varying sorts of argumentative events, speeches, court decisions, food choices, and sound, explore particular personal identities, and the issues highlighted by them, and have different overall orientations to doing argumentation scholarship. Considered together, the essays do not generate one simple conclusion, but they stimulate reflection about the particularity or generality of the experience of arguing, and therefore the scope of our theories.

Arguments, Aggression, and Conflict Theodore Avtgis, Andrew S. Rancer, 2010-05-24 Arguments Aggression and Conflict provides a thorough examination of argumentative and aggressive communication. Editors Theodore A. Avtgis and Andrew S. Rancer bring together a score of prolific and informed authors to discuss aspects of the conceptualization and measurement of aggressive communication The book features an exclusive focus on two aggressive communication traits argumentativeness and verbal aggressiveness one of the most dominant areas of communication research over the last twenty five years both nationally and internationally The chapters include cutting edge issues in the field and present new ideas for future research This book is a valuable resource for instructors researchers scholars theorists and graduate students in communication studies and social psychology Covering a variety of topics from the broad based e g new directions in aggressive communication in the organizational context to the more specific e g verbal aggression in sports this text presents a comprehensive compilation of essays on aggressive communication and conflict

Topical Themes in Argumentation Theory Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, 2012-05-05 Topical Themes in Argumentation Theory brings together twenty exploratory studies on important subjects of research in contemporary argumentation theory The essays are based on papers that were presented at the 7th Conference of the International Society for the Study of Argumentation ISSA in Amsterdam in June 2010 They give an impression of the nature and the variety of the kind of research that has recently been carried out in the study of argumentation The volume starts with three essays that provide stimulating theoretical perspectives on argumentation Subsequently some views are explained on the intriguing topics of dissensus and deep disagreement After a discussion of three different approaches to the treatment of types of argumentation some classical themes from antique argumentation theory are revisited The new research area of visual argumentation is explored in the next part The volume concludes with three reports of experimental studies concerning argumentative discourse The volume starts with three essays that provide stimulating theoretical perspectives on argumentation Subsequently some views are explained on the intriguing topics of dissensus and deep disagreement After a discussion of three different approaches to the treatment of types of argumentation some classical themes from antique argumentation theory are revisited The new research area of visual argumentation is explored in the next part The volume concludes with three reports of experimental studies concerning argumentative discourse
