Sarah Shurts, 2017-06-05 Resentment and the Right French Intellectual Identity Reimagined 1898-2000 examines a century long struggle between cultural spokesmen on the extreme right and left to dominate and define the concept of the intellectual This struggle began with the introduction of the intellectual during the Dreyfus Affair of 1898 and continues even today among the intellectuals of the Nouvelle Droite This struggle to monopolize the public perception of intellectual identity and the status of moral and political guide the title conferred consumed the intellectual leaders of the extreme right and left and saturated their engagement in political affairs Because the left was the first to claim the title of intellectual in 1898 they defined the concept according to their own values and experiences Hereafter when intellectuals of the extreme right felt called to engage in public affairs they portrayed their struggle for recognition as one of an oppressed and ostracized minority against a hegemonic left Their resentment of this perceived repression became integral to their linguistic tropes professional trajectories cultural practices and their self conceptualization as intellectuals The book is organized around the argument that at each perceived national crisis throughout the century when intellectuals felt called to engage the right wing struggle to define true intellectual identity for the public followed a similar cycle self identification as intellectuals perception of exclusion by the intellectual left resentment of this ostracism and development of linguistic tropes of left wing hegemony and right wing repression differentiation revaluation and reappropriation of cultural values self imposed segregation of social networks and professional trajectories internalization and revaluation of their perceived role as intellectual pariahs and

Republicanism and the Origins of French Liberalism, 1794-1804 Andrew J. S. Jainchill,2004

Discourses of Citizenship in Contemporary France Charles M. Hoffman,2004 This dissertation examines the evolution of citizenship as a public philosophy in France since 1981 The quarter century since 1981 has been marked by increasing ethnic and religious diversity the incomplete integration of second and third generation citizens as well as their non European immigrant parents and the rise of an anti liberal response from the new right and the National Front In the 1980s a new discourse of multiculturalism and a new social movement of anti racism emerged as a consequence of these factors In France however multiculturalism and the emergence of a participatory civil society represented an unexpected challenge to French republicanism a model of citizenship initially adumbrated in the late nineteenth century in a mostly rural state facing continued monarchist and counter revolutionary forces The dissertation analyzes the challenges of deep value pluralism and late modern individualism to the French republican idea Through the discourses and analyses of social and political theorists key public intellectuals and leaders in the anti racist movement I analyze the evolution of civil society since 1981 from its problematic origins in the right to difference to the more promising new citizenship politics I explain how neo republicanism a reaffirmation of the lay republic and the French mission civilisatrice came to replace the right to difference as the dominant model of citizenship by 1989 I argue that neo republicanism is an anachronism it represents the renewal of a combative la cit designed to wage a battle against religious sentiment and premodern communities during the first half of the Third Republic a period of modernization and nation building I theorize an enlarged conception of French la cit that can harmonize a participatory multiculturalism and a democratized republicanism Drawing upon the sociological resources of the new citizenship politics I sketch a model of participatory multicultural republicanism that can successfully manage value pluralism while still providing for the enlightened moral development of citizens The successful combination of multiculturalism and republicanism sketched in the study furnishes both a contribution to comparative political theory and a modern vision of French exceptionalism
