Aug 7 1989 The Seven Lamps of Architecture John Ruskin,1871 The Resistant Object of Architecture Petra Čeferin,2020-12-30 Architecture's role is becoming increasingly limited to serving the all pervasive system of globalised capitalism and becoming a constituent complicit part of its mechanism The Resistant Object of Architecture addresses this problem and does so in a way that represents a marked departure from predominant responses which as the book shows do not address the core issue The book addresses this problem by focusing on the question what is architecture and responds to this question by developing the immanent structural logic of architecture that enables it to work not only as an instrumental thinking practice but as a practice of creative thinking This means that it alone determines its issues problems and priorities and precisely because of that it has the capacity and cogency to destabilise indeed pierce holes in the system in which it operates The Resistant Object of Architecture draws on various theoretical sources from the psychoanalysis of Jacques Lacan and the philosophy of Alain Badiou to contemporary architectural theory In contrast to the predominant view of today it demonstrates that architecture has an affirmative transformative capacity This book is an ideal read for those interested in architectural theory and history analysis of contemporary architecture and philosophy of architecture The Architecture of Marcus Vitruvius Pollio Vitruvius Pollio,1874 Perspective as Logic: Positioning Film in Architecture Stefanos Roimpas,2023-04-28 Perspective as Logic offers an architectural examination of the filmic screen as an ontologically unique element in the discipline's repertoire The book determines the screen's conditions of possibility by critically asking not what a screen means but how it can mean anything of architectural significance Based on this shift of enquiry towards the question of meaning it introduces Jacques Lacan and Alain Badiou in an unprecedented way to architecture since they exemplify an analogous shift of perspective towards the question of the subject and the question of being accordingly The book begins by positing perspective projection as being a logical mapping of space instead of a matter of sight Alberti Lacan Secondly it discusses the very nature of architecture's view and relation to the topological notion of outside between immediacy and mediation Diller and Scofidio The Slow House It examines the limitation of pictorial illusion and the productive negativity in the suspension of architecture's signified equivalent to language's production of undecidable propositions Eisenman Badiou In addition the book outlines the difference between the point of view and the vanishing point by introducing two different conceptions of infinity Michael Webb Temple Island Finally a series of design experiments playfully shows how the screen exemplifies architecture's self reflexive capacity where material and immaterial components are part of the spatial conception to which they refer and produce This book will be particularly appealing to scholars of architectural theory especially those interested in the domains of philosophy psychoanalysis and the linguistic turn of architecture *The Architecture of Marcus Vitruvius Pollio, tr. by J.
