Architecture and the Image at the Turn of the 21st Century Sanja Rodeš, 2024-06-28 This book examines architecture image and media relationships as productive for architecture and architectural discourses By arguing that the relationships between architecture and media cannot be dismissed via linear criticism of architecture and media or image these relations are instead seen as a part of a sphere a mediasphere of complex relationships In lieu of anything like a consensus on the contemporary condition of architecture referring to the late twentieth and the twenty first centuries the starting point of this book is that the relationships between architecture media and images continue to multiply owing to continuous technological advancements Contemporary architecture considered in this book is related to the selected circumstances of high visibility where architectural images are propelled into visibility and conflated with non architectural images This takes architecture outside of architectural only discourse and into the public realm By granting higher visibility to both the architectural images and architecture in the public realm architecture can also be influenced by the various perceptions of the general public and can enter public consciousness via non architectural media With increased visibility architecture s far reaching presence calls for more structured analysis of its nature and potential As the analysed architecture in this book is associated with the discourses outside of architecture some of which relate to terrorism natural disaster and branding and consumption the limits of contemporary architectural discipline are questioned and extended This book is written for academics and students in architectural history theory and criticism particularly those interested in visual and media studies

Architecture + Fashion Emily Sharon Fuller,2007 The purpose of this architectural endeavor was to explore the two worlds of fashion and architecture together in one high end retail fashion house I wanted my thesis to be something that I was very passionate about I also wanted my architecture to excite me so that I could work on it for a whole year and still feel the same passion at the end as I did going into the project I decided to combine two things that I care deeply about architecture and fashion There are many famous architects that have designed high end retail but I wanted to go beyond that I wanted to design a fashion house that embodied the whole fashion experience from the first designs of the fashion designer the living quarters for the main designer to the manufacturing then to the runway and the last step to be marketed and displayed to the public in the showroom retail store The architecture focuses on the experience of the customer as they move through the building and the views that they will see and the people that will be viewing them The main focus of my building the runways engage the street and the customers in the building so everyone feels like a model and a part of the fashion world experience

How Architecture Learned to Speculate Mona Mahall,Asli Serbest,2009 For the first time the speculative in architecture becomes a topic of critical research It is investigated not as idealistic but as strategic acting within endless modernity This modernity implies that speculation as strategic acting is not only applied to economic but also to political and aesthetic values Values become mobile valuations become a play with highs and lows authors architects become winners or losers and culture becomes fashion Includes projects by NL Architects MVRDV Aristide Antonas FAT Ralf Schreiber Pascual Sisto Ant Farm Caspar Stracke OMA JODI Kevin Bauman and others From publisher s website

Architecture, in Fashion Deborah Fausch,Princeton University. School of Architecture,1994 The complicity between architecture and fashion is explored in essays by Mark Wigley Val Warke and Leila Kinney among others and architectural projects by Machado and Silvetti Diller

Scofidio and Venturi Scott Brown Topics range from the encoding of gender in fashion within the work of Semper Wagner Loos and Le Corbusier to a discussion of the body as a scaffold for the display of ready made wear Paulette Singley and Deborah Fausch provide an introduction Architecture In Fashion comes recommended with the caveat that it is not light reading In fact you may finish with a sense of wonder that it weighs so little dense as it is with food for thought This diminutive volume contains more theory than a freshman philosophy text and the pictures are a hell of a lot better Michael Jack AIArchitect

Fashion as Cultural Translation Patrizia Calefato,2021-01-30 The book highlights how the signs of fashion showcase stories hybridations forms of feeling from the classics of fashion in cinema to fashion as cultural tradition in the global world to digital media Based on a strong socio semiotic method Barthes The Language of Fashion is the main reference the book crosses some of the main aspects of the contemporary culture of the clothed body from time and space to gender to fashion as cultural translation to the narratives included in the media convergence of our age According to Jurji Lotman fashion introduces the dynamic principle into seemingly inert spheres of the everyday Fashion s unexpected function of overturning received meaning is conveyed through its collocation within the dynamic storehouse of what Lotman calls the sphere of the unpredictable In this horizon the concept of fashion as a worldly system of sense Benjamin generates different worlds through its signs The Fashion of Architecture Bradley Quinn,2003-11-01 Architecture is making its presence felt in cutting edge fashion The pliable metals membrane structures lightweight glasses and plastics used in building construction are creeping onto the catwalk As they do so their impact on recent textile developments has produced fabrics that enable clothing to act as individual climate controlled environments that can exchange information with embedded sensors resulting in wearable dwellings that act as both shelter and clothing At the same time architects are borrowing the techniques of pleating stapling cutting and draping from traditional tailoring to design buildings that are flexible interactive inflatable and even portable Although the relationship between architecture and fashion was recognized more than a century ago the connection between them has rarely been explored by historians designers or practicing architects The Fashion of Architecture is the first attempt to investigate the contemporary relationship between architecture and fashion in considerable depth by examining the ideas imagery techniques and materials used by visionaries such as Martin Margiela Issey Miyake Alexander McQueen Tadao Ando and Daniel Libeskind As mavericks ranging from Hussein Chalayan and Rei Kawakubo to Rem Koolhaas and Zaha Hadid describe architecture s role in the formation of fashion identities new readings of both areas emerge Probing and far reaching in its content The Fashion of Architecture is the most comprehensive study of this exciting area to date The Emergence of Modern Architecture Liane Lefavre,Alexander Tzonis,2004 In this book Liane Lefavre and Alexander Tzonis bring together 140 documents spanning a period from the year 1000 to the end of the eighteenth century They argue that Modern Architectural thinking was created during this period a wholly new forma mentis for conceiving buildings landscapes and cities The material includes in addition to the more predictable texts key extracts from architectural treatises handbooks and textbooks material from letters articles from the press of the times scientific memoirs maxims poems plays and novels Their authors are equally varied architects patrons politicians artists poets scientists priests philosophers and journalists Some describe and systematize some argue and criticize and a large number are eager to present new findings and new ways to construe and construct the world Fashion Forward ,2020-05-18 Floppy Logic Leanne Zilka,2020-07-28 Floppy Logic is an exploration into the architecture of fashion and textiles and how the concepts aesthetics techniques and construction of this architecture might be understood and used to design and fabricate objects and space differently A key concept here is the Floppy defined as a quality in material that requires extraneous support to produce architecture Floppy generally refers to fabric but can also refer to any material that fails when there is not enough support as is the case with sheet materials when the span between supports exceeds a certain length Floppy Logic uses a material palette that has been selected for its aesthetic and tactile nature These materials are typically used superficially and do not have structural qualities to allow them to be applied to the scale of buildings By exploring form through material play as fashion designers do with draping fabric
