Historical Communities Hilary J. Bernstein, 2021-01-25 Historical Communities reveals the importance of urban history writing in early modern France from the 1560s to the 1660s both for individual towns and the French kingdom Grounded in published and manuscript works archival sources correspondence and research notes the book demonstrates how historical traditions mattered to city inhabitants and how local elites combined historical narratives with social and political objectives Numerous conflicts emerged including debates regarding city origins the early French Church noble genealogies and the memory of the French Wars of Religion Simultaneously provincial scholars maintained active contacts within the Republic of Letters grounding local research and writing in developing erudite methodologies and making them integral to the ongoing process of forging a French historical identity

Building Communities through Food David F. Purnell, 2019-06-28 Building Communities through Food Strengthening Communication Families and Social Capital examines the power of food as a communicative tool to bring people of diverse backgrounds together David F Purnell argues that food enables people to look past their differences and focus on their similarities thus creating a stronger sense of community via the sharing of a meal The preparation presentation and ingredients of meals reflect a concrete representation of our individual identities and offer others an opportunity to share and take part in those identities Scholars with an interest in family communication interpersonal communication and sociology will find this book especially useful Cumulated Index to the Books ,1999
