Three Crowns: the Crown of Love, the Crown of Suffering, and the Crown of Life. Being an Outline of the Life of Jeanne D'Albret, Queen of Navarre L. A. H. S., 1894 Cheikh Anta Diop's Transdisciplinary Legacy Victor Oguejiofor Okafor, 2026-01-22 This book highlights the transdisciplinary legacy of Cheikh Anta Diop's epistemology demonstrating its continuing impact on contemporary Africology which is also known as Black Studies Diop's works in the second half of the 20th century were foundational to the discipline of Africology Exposing a stain of cultural and racial bias in Eurocentric Egyptology Diop argued that ancient Egyptian civilization in fact had deep cultural and linguistic connections with African societies south of the Sahara This book argues that transdisciplinarity was at the heart of Diop's arguments as his work drew from history anthropology linguistics sociology economics linguistics osteology and physics This book argues that even now transdisciplinary approaches remain essential to the discipline of Africology sometimes referred to as Black Studies Africana Studies Pan African Studies African Global Studies or African American Studies In this book the contributors consider how Diopian transdisciplinary epistemic approaches continue to combat racial bias and restore the global historical and cultural significance of Africa Highlighting the significance of Africa's usable past as outlined by Diop this book is an important read for researchers across African Studies Africology Black Studies History World Civilizations Intercultural Studies Africa focused Think Tanks and policy makers across the African world Three crowns, an outline of the life of Jeanne d'Albret, queen of Navarre, by L.A.H.S. L A H. S., 1894 Dissimilar Similitudes Caroline Walker Bynum, 2020-09-29 From an acclaimed historian a mesmerizing account of how medieval European Christians envisioned the paradoxical nature of holy objects Between the twelfth and the sixteenth centuries European Christians used a plethora of objects in worship not only prayer books statues and paintings but also pieces of natural materials such as stones and earth considered to carry holiness dolls representing Jesus and Mary and even bits of consecrated bread and wine thought to be miraculously preserved flesh and blood Theologians and ordinary worshippers alike explained utilized justified and warned against some of these objects which could carry with them both anti Semitic charges and the glorious promise of heaven Their proliferation and the reaction against them form a crucial background to the European wide movements we know today as reformations both Protestant and Catholic In a set of independent but interrelated essays Caroline Bynum considers some examples of such holy things among them beds for the baby Jesus the headdresses of medieval nuns and the footprints of Christ carried home from the Holy Land by pilgrims in patterns cut to their shape or their measurement in lengths of string Building on and going beyond her well received work on the history of materiality Bynum makes two arguments one substantive the other methodological First she demonstrates that the objects themselves communicate a paradox of dissimilar similitude that is that in their very details they both image the glory of heaven and make clear that that heaven is beyond any representation in earthly things Second she uses the theme of likeness and unlikeness to interrogate current practices of comparative history Suggesting that contemporary students of religion art and culture should avoid comparing things that merely look alike she proposes that humanists turn instead to comparing across cultures the disparate and perhaps visually dissimilar objects in which worshippers as well as theorists locate the other that gives religion enduring power Dental Era ,1904
