Cry Of The Werewolf:

The Encyclopedia of Best Films Jay Robert Nash, 2019-10-23 This all inclusive A Z encyclopedia by one of the world's foremost experts on cinema provides comprehensive annotations of the best films produced from 1914 on. The work offers more than 5 000 three to five star entries: three stars good, four stars excellent, five stars masterpiece, and yes, author Jay Robert Nash has viewed every single one of them as well as many more that did not make the cut. In addition to a precis, each film's entry also includes a listing of the cast as well as the key principles involved in production from the director to the hair stylist. Especially unique to this book is a rating system that helps parents determine whether or not a film is appropriate for their children. Unlike the industry rating system which can be influenced by studio lobbying, Nash objectively evaluates each film and confers upon it one of four recommendations for viewing: recommended, acceptable, cautionary, and unacceptable. Backmatter includes a list of top films by genre: i.e. animated, drama, sports, mystery, adventure, etc. as well as an annotated name index listing all persons mentioned along with their dates of birth and death. Rounding out this essential volume for the film buff are over 500 still photos from the author's private collection.

Fearing the Dark Edmund G. Bansak, 1995. Cat People 1942 and I Walked with a Zombie 1943 established Val Lewton's hauntingly graceful style where suggestion was often used in place of explicit violence. His stylish B thrillers were imitated by a generation of filmmakers such as Richard Wallace, William Castle, and even Walt Disney in his animated Adventures of Ichabod and Mr Toad 1949. Through interviews with many of Lewton's associates including his wife and son, and extensive research, his life and output are thoroughly examined.

The Werewolf Filmography Bryan Senn, 2017-02-06. From the horrific to the heroic, cinematic werewolves are metaphors for our savage nature, symbolizing the secret bestial side of humanity that hides beneath our civilized veneer. Examining acknowledged classics like The Wolf Man 1941 and The Howling 1981, as well as overlooked gems like Dog Soldiers 2011, this comprehensive filmography covers the highs and lows of the genre. Information is provided on production, cast, and filmmakers, along with critical discussion of the tropes and underlying themes that make the werewolf a terrifying but fascinating figure.
