Dada And Surrealism Ai:

Dada Surrealism ,1985 by Katrin Bucher Trantow China welcomes you Peter Pakesch,Kunsthaus Graz,2007 Edited by Peter Pakesch Foreword by Peter Pakesch

Fables of the Self Rosanna Warren,2008 Fables of the Self traces ideas of imagined selfhood through the lyric poetry of classical Greece and Rome the modernist poetry of France and modern and contemporary English and American lyrics Rosanna Warren s work emerges from the tradition of British and American poet critics such as William Empson Donald Davie and Randall Jarrell Her readings of Sappho Virgil Baudelaire Melville Rimbaud Mark Strand and Louise Glück among others combine Helen Vendler s passionate attention to detail and something of Harold Bloom s panoramic view Warren opposes both the literalizing autobiographical approach to self in so called confessional poetry and the other extreme of avant garde erasures of self Framing her critical studies between a memoir of childhood and a concluding journal entry Warren has composed an occult autobiography showing the imagination as a transfiguring and potentially moral force

Art in America Frank Jewett Mather, Frederic Fairchild Sherman,1993 The Human and the Machine in Literature and Culture Kate Foster,Molly Crozier,2025-09-30 Automation is everywhere in the supermarket in home appliances and on our commutes While we worry about what automation means for human autonomy now human societies have long wondered about their replacement by machines The Human and the Machine in Literature and Culture explores the pervasive and long standing influence of automation on humanity by dismantling the prevalent future oriented perspective of many automation debates This collection examines how literature has conceptualized automation over centuries from utopian visions of a world liberated from work and domestic labour to dystopian futures in which humans are surplus to requirements We set out social and industrial developments which feed into discourses of automation and its mediation in literary cultures By bringing together theoretical approaches to real world automation with readings of its literary interpretations this volume demonstrates literature s role as a space for hypothesizing alternate realities making clear literature s propensity to inform our attitudes to real world phenomena

Art & Design ,1989 The Beribboned Bomb Robert James Belton,1995 Surrealism was ostensibly directed at the emancipation of the human spirit but it represented only male aspirations and fantasies until a number of women artists began to redefine its agenda in the later 1930s This book addresses the former using a thick description of the historically specific circumstances which required the male Surrealists to manufacture a sexual reputation of narcissism and misogyny These circumstances were determined by hegemonic masculinity an ideological construct which had little to do with individual masculinities In male Surrealism the beribboned bomb signified something both attractive and volatile a specific instance of the Surrealist principle of convulsive beauty In hegemonic masculinity similar devices served as metaphors of the sexuality all men were supposed to possess The intersection of these two axes produced an imagery of unrepentant violence
