A Celebration Of Marine Art:

Celebration of Marine Art Royal Soc Marine, The Royal Society Of Marine Artists Staff, 1999-10 Celebration of Marine Art , 2013-02-18 A Celebration of Marine Art Royal Society of Marine Artists, Octopus Publishing Group, 2005
Published to mark the 60th anniversary of the Royal Society of Marine Artists this text includes scenes from the darkened waters of war to working vessels on industrial waterways A Celebration of Marine Art Blandford Press, 1999-04-01 Celebration of Marine Art Octopus Publishing Group, 2003-04-01 Celebration of Marine Art Continuum International Publishing Group, Limited, 1996-09 A Celebration of the Sea , 2004 Celebration of Sail Roy Cross, 2004 Features paintings by Roy Cross one of the foremost marine painters working today Dozens of his best paintings are showcased in full colour and accompanied by detailed captions giving historical information on each of the vessels featured The Sea Painter's World Geoff Hunt, 2012-06-11 This timely follow up to Conway's highly successful Marine Art of Geoff Hunt 2004 presents the considerable artistic output of Britain's leading marine painter since 2003 This new volume is heavily illustrated with images ranging from large paintings to sketchbook drawings with text written by the artist himself The new book reflects Hunt's developing career during a time in which he served a five year term as President of the Royal Society of Marine Artists worked on large scale paintings such as the definitive Mary Rose and also completed numerous outdoor sketches and paintings The book is divided into six sections 1 The Sea Painter's World an introduction to the artist's studio work at Merton Place London and his plein air work on the River Thames 2 Home Waters 3 The Mediterranean 4 In the Wake of Nelson 5 North America and 6 The West Indies and Beyond This concept sets Geoff's work in a broadly geographical context showcasing the artist's freer plein air style alongside the exhaustively researched maritime history paintings to which he owes his standing as Britain's leading marine artist Marine Art & Antiques Joseph Welles Henderson, Rodney P. Carlisle, 1999 Over the years Welles Henderson the author of this intriguing book noted that the majority of maritime museums throughout the world placed their emphasis on ship paintings ship models figureheads navigation equipment nautical tools and weapons but gave little insight into the daily life of the ordinary sailor For over four decades therefore he has been collecting material in an attempt to fill the gap This has been a great challenge as comparatively few real life depictions of shipboard activities and the life of a sailor at sea were made during the eighteenth and much of the nineteenth century There are countless ship portraits but very little of the human interest side of the sailor afloat While many well known expeditions including that of Captain James Cook had artists accompany them practically all their depictions were of flora fauna landscapes and local inhabitants rather than of shipboard life Finding a piece here and a piece there however Welles Henderson has painstakingly succeeded in putting together a fascinating mosaic of the life of a sailor from the time of his going off to sea until his death on board or on shore A Postcard History of the Passenger Liner Christopher Deakes, 2023-10-01 From around 1880 for almost a hundred years shipowners commissioned a wealth of paintings that depicted their magnificent liners as well as the routes they travelled their exotic destinations and life onboard These paintings rich in imagination and atmosphere appeared on postcards and posters of the day and were used to advertise the companies and their ships and so was born a whole genre that produced tens of thousands of paintings which formed a wonderful record of the great era of the passenger liner In 1900 there were over thirty shipping companies operating passenger liners across the North Atlantic Other oceans were similarly served But now with just a few exceptions the companies and their liners have disappeared along with the art they once inspired Little remains to recall this aspect of our maritime past except the postcards and they tell an evocative story of the vanished world of elegant ships and leisurely travel of social and political times much changed by the history of the past century Here brought vividly to life in more than 500 colourful postcards are the ships on which so many of our predecessors sailed as emigrants soldiers administrators or simply as tourists in days long past These cards which are now highly collectable show how steamships developed over the years but they are also a fine tribute to the artists who painted them This volume also includes a glossary of some 170 illustrators which forms an important reference section and advice on collecting

Marine Review and Marine Record ,1920 Art & Auction ,1997 Marine Review and Marine Record ,1920 Includes section Book Reviews Who's who in Art Bernard Dolman,2008 The Mentor ,1921 Index of Bicentennial Activities American Revolution Bicentennial Administration,1976 Ships and Seascapes David Cordingly,1997 An introduction to maritime prints drawings and watercolours which is written for experts and enthusiasts alike The text includes a historical survey tracing the development of marine art and exploring the technique and subject matter of the pictures Although the most famous seventeenth century Dutch maritime painters are covered the author concentrates on lesser known and less expensive works from 1800 onwards that are readily available to the collector The book addresses important questions about maritime drawings and prints from the subject and location to larger questions of connoisseurship
