A. Rini, M. J. Cresswell, 2012-01-19 Is what could have happened but never did as real as what did happen What did happen but isn't happening now happened at another time Analogously one can say that what could have happened happens in another possible world Whatever their views about the reality of such things as possible worlds philosophers need to take this analogy seriously Adriane Rini and Max Cresswell exhibit in an easy step by step manner the logical structure of temporal and modal discourse and show that every temporal construction has an exact parallel that requires a language that can refer to worlds and vice versa They make precise in a way which can be articulated and tested the claim that the parallel is at work behind even ordinary talk about time and modality The book gives metaphysicians a sturdy framework for the investigation of time and modality one that does not presuppose any particular metaphysical view The World's Great Classics: History of English literature, by H.A. Taine ,1900 The World's Work ,1919 A history of our time The Courage of Doing Philosophy Jerzy Brzeziński, Andrzej Klawiter, Theo A. F. Kuipers, 2007 In recent years the problem of idealization has been one of the central issues discussed in philosophy of science This volume gathers original essays written by well known philosophers The papers address the method of idealization and its applications in science as well as ontological and epistemological problems that have arisen Among the questions addressed are What is the logical form of idealizational statements and how should they be interpreted Is the possible worlds semantics useful in understanding idealization What is the relation between idealization and truth The volume is a celebration of Leszek Nowak's sixtieth birthday BOOK JACKET
