Travelling Home, 'Walkabout Magazine' and Mid-Twentieth-Century Australia Mitchell Rolls, Anna Johnston, 2016-07-06 Travelling Home provides a detailed analysis of the contribution that the mid twentieth century Walkabout magazine made to Australia's cultural history. Spanning five central decades of the twentieth century 1934-1974 Walkabout was integral to Australia's sense of itself as a nation. By advocating travel both vicarious and actual Walkabout encouraged settler Australians to broaden their image of the nation and its place in the Pacific region. In this way Walkabout explicitly aimed to make its readers feel at home in their country as well as including a diverse picture of Aboriginal and Pacific cultures. Given its wide availability and distribution together with its accessible and entertaining content Walkabout changed how Australia was perceived and the magazine is recalled with nostalgic fondness by most if not all of its former readers. Drawing on interdisciplinary scholarship Travelling Home engages with key questions in literary, cultural and Australian studies about national identity and modernity. The book's diverse topics demonstrate how Walkabout canvassed subtle and shifting fields of representation as a result this analysis produces complex and nuanced readings of Australian literary and cultural history.

Dad & Dave Steele Rudd, 1984 History Of Australia (Volumes 5 & 6) Manning Clark, 1999-09-13 Manning Clark's six volume history is one of the masterpieces of Australian writing. It is also one of the most passionately debated visions of Australian history in which the struggle to realise an Australian nation is played out on an epic scale. A History of Australia 1888-1945 covers Federation, the Boer War and World War I's Gallipoli. It finishes with the story of an emerging Australian identity at the point of its greatest trial, the outbreak of World War II. This is not a general Australian history; it does not attempt to cover all aspects and it is not a definitive or quantitative analysis. It is a work of art, a living and breathing account of the remaking of a primitive continent. History comes alive.

Entries provide physical descriptions, dates, publishers, illustrations, awards received and in some cases remarks on the content. Entries are arranged by author. Title and illustrator indexes are included.
