Dads Army Collection 2:

The Napoleonic 'Dad's Army' Paul L. Dawson,2024-04-30 During the crisis year of 1792 when war against France was at its closest a variety of societies and associations of Loyal Britons were set up throughout Britain Their aim was to organise patriotic anti French forces in defense of king and country and to help maintain the established order The need to provide an internal defense force resulted in the Volunteer Act of 1794 It witnessed the formation of hundreds of volunteer regiments on the upswell in loyalist sentiment following the disorder and instability witnessed across the Channel in Revolutionary France By 1798 there were 118 000 volunteers but faced with the possibility of a French invasion of Southern England William Pitt s government aimed to expand this number substantially By 1804 there were an astonishing 380 000 volunteers under arms and the various Corps made up half to one third of all the home service forces When we add in those volunteers who agreed to serve overseas as garrison troops in India for example the number grows to approximately 800 000 meaning that around one in every five adult males participated in military activities This amazing groundswell of patriotic fervour has seldom been investigated before Using diaries and archive sources this book seeks to explore the Dad s Army of the Napoleonic Wars These men were far more than local bands of volunteers they represented a militarisation of society not previously seen and which was repeated again when the world was thrown into war in the twentieth century
