Diary Novel:

The Diary Novel Lorna Martens, 1985-06-30 Although the diary novel is often regarded as a twentieth century genre due to its particular popularity in this century the form actually has a long history that originates in the eighteenth century The Diary Novel is the first book to trace that history concentrating on French German and English works with some attention given to Russian and Scandinavian traditions as well Beginning with a discussion of the definition of the diary novel and some observations about genre study and criticism Lorna Martens proceeds with interpretations of major diary novels by writers such as Defoe Gide Rilke Frisch Butor and Lessing The Diary Novel includes sections on the influence of Richardson and the letter journal novel the publication of the Journal Intime psychological fiction reliability of the narrator and the contemporary diary novel

Form and Function in the Diary Novel Trevor Field, 1989-06-18 A study of novels written in the form of diaries Some 75 fictional diarists are followed with examples ranging from light hearted works to those of Nobel prize winners like Sartre and Golding which the author uses to illustrate the versatility of this literary form

Diary Fiction H. Porter Abbott, 1984 H Porter Abbott explores the role of the personal diary and its use as a literary strategy in a number of representative works in fiction He asserts that the device of the diary can give a work a unique literary reflexivity the diary not only tells the tale but directly influences its development This book serves as a guide to the field of diary fiction and at the same time sheds new light on issues central to the study of narrative and autobiography

Diary as Fiction Jessica M. Natale, 1999-10 There is a genre of literature in which the work is purposely written within the diary format this type of writings known as diary fiction Diary novels traditionally reflect what the authors think real diaries are or are written as a parody of the diary as a negative model The authors of diary novels choose the diary form because its artistic quality expresses a greater sense of immediacy to the reader than other forms of literature The diary novel emphasizes the time of writing rather than the time that it is written about so the diarist usually writes about events of the immediate past events that occur between one entry and the next or records his momentary ideas reflections or emotions Turgenev's Diary of a Superfluous Man represents the marriage of a memoir and a diary resulting in a work with more contemporaneous content than recounting of memories a diary novel Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground presents an interesting variation of the diary novel which is devoid of any dated entries Instead it is divided into two parts In the first part the narrator describes his present life and philosophical ideas In the second half he recounts the past Therefore like Turgenev's work Notes from Underground combines aspects of the memoir and diary novel genre but the overriding existence of real or present time writing supports the sole diary novel classification

Contagious Imagination Jane Tolmie, 2022-07-27 Contributions by Frederick Luis Aldama Melissa Burgess Susan Kirtley Rachel Luria Ursula Murray Husted Mark O Connor Allan Pero Davida Pines Tara Prescott Johnson Jane Tolmie Rachel Trousdale Elaine Claire Villacorta and Glenn Willmott Lynda Barry b 1956 is best known for her distinctive style and unique voice first popularized in her underground weekly comic Ernie Pook's
