The Diary of Samuel Pepys Samuel Pepys, 2010-08-27 That wild and crazy guy of the 17th century Samuel Pepys continues his escapades in London and environs In this volume attending a coronation avaricious scheming chasing the ladies his tempestuous marriage troubles with redecorating his home court gossip and general carousing Much too scandalous to be published in its own time this first person account sheds an entirely different light on Pepys times Near the beginning of the year there is high excitement Waked in the morning about six o'clock by people running up and down in Mr Davis's house talking that the Fanatiques were up in arms in the City And so I rose and went forth where in the street I found every body in arms at the doors So I returned though with no good courage at all but that I might not seem to be afeared and got my sword and pistol which however I had no powder to charge and went to the door where I found Sir R Ford and with him I walked up and down as far as the Exchange and there I left him In our way the streets full of Train band and great stories what mischief these rogues have done and I think near a dozen have been killed this morning on both sides
