and why The Character and Purpose of Luke's Christology Douglas Buckwalter, 1996-08-28 Luke's christology is carefully designed. Luke portrays the exalted Jesus as God's co-equal by the kinds of things he does and says from heaven. Through the Holy Spirit, the divine name and personal manifestations Jesus behaves toward people in Luke Acts as does Yahweh in the Old Testament. His power and knowledge are supreme. Jesus sovereignly reigns over Israel, the church, the powers of darkness, and the world. Luke deepens this portrait by depicting Jesus as deity who by nature behaves as servant. The earthly Jesus acted among his people as one who serves the exalted Jesus, continues serving his people by strengthening and encouraging them in their witness of him to the world. That the believers in Acts resemble the way Jesus behaved in the Gospel means that they too are now imaging some of his servant-like character in their witness of him. A

Biblical-Theological Introduction to the New Testament Michael J. Kruger, 2016-05-31 Introductions to the New Testament often take a defensive stance focusing on historical critical issues but failing to address the interests and needs of pastors and Bible teachers. However, with an emphasis on the theology, key themes, and overall message of each book in the New Testament, this collaborative effort of nine biblical scholars takes a more positive and pastorally relevant approach. Written from a distinctly Reformed covenantal and redemptive historical perspective, this theologically rich expositional resource will equip readers to study and teach each book in the New Testament with clarity and insight. Practicing Intertextuality Max J. Lee, B. J. Oropeza, 2021-10-29 Practicing Intertextuality attempts something bold and ambitious to map both the interactions and intertextual techniques used by New Testament authors as they engaged the Old Testament and the discourses of their fellow Jewish and Greco-Roman contemporaries. This collection of essays functions collectively as a handbook describing the relationship between ancient authors, their texts, and audience capacity to detect allusions and echoes. Aimed for biblical studies majors, graduate and seminary students, and academics, the book catalogues how New Testament authors used the very process of interacting with their Scriptures: that is, the Masoretic Text, the Septuagint, and their variants, and the texts of their immediate environment, including popular literary works, treatises, rhetorical handbooks, papyri, inscriptions, artifacts, and graffiti for the very production of their message. Each chapter demonstrates a type of interaction that is doctrinal reformulations, common ancient ethical and religious usage, refutation, irenic appropriation, and competitive appropriation. It describes the intertextual techniques employed by the ancient author and explains how these were practiced in Jewish, Greco-Roman, or early Christian circles. Seventeen scholars, each an expert in their respective fields, have contributed studies which illuminate the biblical interpretation of the Gospels, the Pauline letters, and General Epistles through the process of intertextuality. A Theology of Luke and Acts Darrell L. Bock, 2012 Examines Lukan themes, language, and the book's context within the Bible from publisher description. Being Missional, Becoming Missional Banseok Cho, 2021-12-10 This book explores the theme of the missional conversion of the church, namely how the church is transformed toward its missionary vocation from a biblical theological perspective. The purpose of this book is to find

biblically grounded theologically sound and practically applicable principles helpful for the church which seeks to be continuously shaped into a missional community which authentically and fully participates in God's mission today The biblical theological findings on how the triune God in the biblical narrative shapes the people of God toward their missionary vocation demonstrates first that in Scripture the missional conversion of the church is primarily the consequence of its continuous encounter with the triune God and second that this divine human encounter for the missional conversion of the church is ineluctable in view of the ongoing tension between the missional faithfulness of God in fulfilling the missionary vocation of the church on the one hand and the missional failure of the church in its missionary vocation on the other hand

The Missionary Review of the World, 1916 A Digest of Reported Cases in the Supreme Court, Court of Insolvency, and the Courts of Mines and Vice-Admiralty of the Colony of Victoria, from 1861 to 1885 George Wilson Waterhouse, Francis William Edmondson, 1886 Dictionary for Theological Interpretation of the Bible Kevin J. Vanhoozer, Craig G. Bartholomew, Daniel Treier, N.T. Wright, 2005-11-01 For the pastor or serious layperson the realm of biblical interpretation can be a confusing maze of personalities communities methods and theories This maze can often result in obscuring the main goal of interpreting Scripture hearing and knowing God better The Dictionary for Theological Interpretation of the Bible is a groundbreaking reference tool that introduces readers to key names theories and concepts in the field of biblical interpretation It discusses these approaches and evaluates their helpfulness in enabling Christians to hear what God is saying to the church through Scripture The contributors come from a variety of backgrounds and the dictionary covers a broad range of topics with both clarity and depth The Band of Hope Chronicle United Kingdom Band of Hope Union, 1888 A Critical and Exegetical Commentary on the Gospel According to St. Luke Alfred Plummer, 1896 The Life of the Spirit and the Life of To-day Evelyn Underhill, 1923 Sacramental Charity, Creditor Christology, and the Economy of Salvation in Luke's Gospel Anthony Giambrone, 2017-07-20 In this work Anthony Giambrone investigates the appropriation and development of Jewish charity discourse in Luke's Gospel In contrast to previous scholarship neither the coherence of Lukan wealth ethics nor its contemporary actualization defines his study Instead the sacramental significance of almsgiving becomes the starting point for a more theologically oriented exegesis The end result recognizes Luke's Christological mutation of the inherited tradition The text is organized around three exegetical probes each handling parabolic material i e Luke 7:36-50 10:25-37 and 16:1-31 The author advances an approach to these parables that highlights Christological allegory metalepsis as a Lukan narrative device A break is thus implied with the dominant rationalist constructions of Luke's parabolic art and ethics Also in contrast to a dominant trend stress is laid upon Luke's Jewish rather than Greco-Roman context Tarbell's Teachers' Guide to the International Sunday-school Lessons for ..., 1919 The International Critical Commentary on the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments: A critical and exegetical commentary on the Gospel according to St. Luke, by A.
