Adapting Instruction to Accommodate Students in Inclusive Settings Judy W. Wood,1998 This book is appropriate for a mild methods course or for a mainstreaming course if one wants practical content based strategies Using a sequential approach this practical book focuses on the provision of appropriate services for students with disabilities and students who are at risk for failure served in general education settings The new edition is a user friendly complete package designed to prepare future general and special education teachers for the inclusive classroom Useful for either a mainstreaming or methods course

Adapting Instruction for the Mainstream Judy W. Wood,1984 Hearing on Innovative Approaches for Teaching Disadvantaged Students United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary, and Vocational Education,1992 Testimony on strategies designed to enhance educational opportunities for disadvantaged students is recorded in this report of a congressional hearing Robert Slavin of the Early and Elementary School Program Center for Research on Effective Schooling for Disadvantaged Students at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore Maryland testified about the development and achievements of the Success for All Program Leetta Allen Haynes of the College of Education at the University of New Orleans Louisiana testified about the Louisiana Accelerated Schools a program that works for disadvantaged students by in part trying to change the culture of schools themselves The final witness was Sidney Smith Headmaster of the Boston Massachusetts English High School who testified about the program at his school and in particular the key role of rigorous student assessments for increasing academic achievement among disadvantaged students Discussion followed the formal testimony and touched on the following issues fostering family involvement in education comprehensive social service delivery at school sites staff development and teacher education financial resources assessment driven practices perceptions of urban students educational technology and school desegregation The witnesses prepared statements are included JB

Serving Special Needs Students in the School Library Media Center Margaret Keefe,Robert King,1995-05-30 School library media specialists are now considered part of the teaching staff and are charged with integrating their library and information skills curriculum with the more general classroom curriculum At the same time more and more special needs students are part of every school and every classroom Thus the media specialist must work effectively with special needs students on a regular basis to develop their information skills and must also serve as a resource to classroom teachers This professional reference offers practical information to school library media specialists on how to serve special needs students and their classroom teachers effectively The first part of the book highlights the teaching role of the media specialist and discusses how and what to teach special needs students The second part views the media specialist as an information expert who must structure the library and its resources for students with special needs The third section treats the media specialist's role as a professional who must collaborate with other teachers
