Acta juridica. 1995 [Anonymus AC01297595],1995 Importing the Law in Post-Communist Transitions

Catherine Dupré,2003-03-14 This book one of the very first monographs on the Hungarian Constitutional Court available in English is a unique study of the birth of a new legal system after the collapse of communism in Central and Eastern Europe It shows that the genesis of the new legal order was determined by massive Western involvement and an unprecedented movement of export import of law Anchored in a detailed comparative study of German and Hungarian constitutional case law on human dignity this book argues that law importation was a deliberate strategy carried out by the Hungarian Court in the early years of its operation It explains how the circumstances of the transition and the background of the importers determined the choice of German case law as a model and how the Court used it to construct its own version of the right to human dignity It highlights the Hungarian Court s instrumentalisation of imported law in order to lay the foundations of a new conception of fundamental rights While focusing on the Hungarian experience this book engages with international debates and provides an original theoretical framework for approaching the movement of law from the importers perspective
