

HOW DOES ACTION LEARNING WORK?

Action Learning At Work

Gordon Prestoungrange, Charles J.
Margerison

Action Learning At Work:

Action Learning at Work Alan Mumford, 1997 In this book Professor Mumford himself a leading exponent of Action Learning has brought together more than 34 articles and papers on the subject from a variety of sources They reflect the experience not only of those responsible for AL programmes but also of learners and client organizations A wide range of issues is addressed from underlying philosophy to evaluation from the learning process itself to ways of integrating the P and the Q of Revans famous equation

Action Learning Lynne Butler, Nigel Leach, 2011 Much has been written about the challenges of managing change in organisations and the importance of keeping people motivated and positive throughout the process This practical guide shows how action learning can help change to stick

Action Learning in Practice Mike Pedler, 2016-03-23 Previous editions of Action Learning in Practice established this authoritative overview of action learning around the world Over the last decade the move towards action based organizational learning and development has accelerated and action learning is now an established part of the education and development mainstream in large and small organizations Fully revised and updated this fourth edition covers the origins of action learning with Reg Revans ideas and looks at their development and application today Action learning is self directed learning through tackling business and work problems with the support of peers and colleagues A professional and diverse workforce attracted influenced and developed in this way is more able to deal effectively with the growing complexity and pressures of working life As the limits of conventional training and development become more obvious leaders are increasingly attracted to action based approaches to learning when seeking better outcomes and returns on investment

Accelerated Action Learning, 2024 In a knowledge based society people should not simply collect knowledge but should utilize and apply it to solve a problem Action learning makes organizational members learn while solving real problems in the workplace However traditional action learning might not be effective for rapidly changing environments because it is typically a process that requires substantial time Therefore this book provides a guideline on how to apply action learning quickly in workplaces especially in virtual settings Action learning allows the organization to develop people while at the same time getting work done It is an alternative to classroom based and online learning programs In addition it can also be an alternative to the instructional systems design ISD model or the successive approximation model SAM as a means of developing planned instruction if used for that purpose Action learning can be an effective tool for Web 2.0 learning Many organizations are now using self directed teams and other team formats for work It makes sense to revisit planned on the job training and learning with an emphasis on teams Action learning is a process involving a small group with facilitators and action learning process managers so it is one of the best options for team based problem solving This book provides real action learning cases There are needs that have emerged in these post pandemic times There is a need to explain how action learning can be applied to various settings issues and challenges Since COVID 19 occurred many people must work in virtual or hybrid settings This book gives trainers who could be HR managers operating managers or learning and development professionals guidelines that can be used in virtual settings to meet the new needs Essentially this book is written for team facilitators supervisors managers or team members who wish to plan action oriented problem based and work related learning experiences in real time Because many action learning books are written for an academic audience it is not easy to put action learning into practice Therefore the goal of this book is to provide guidelines on how action learning starts what basic principles should be considered and what tools and techniques are needed for rapid action learning The book is intended to be a primer on how to facilitate a planned learning project in a team or workgroup

Action Learning and Its Applications Robert Dilworth, Yury Boshyk, 2010-02-10 This second volume of two discusses the employment of action learning in different contexts including healthcare education government military and the business world Use of action learning in delivery of Future Search Conferences is addressed as well as action learning in community and civil society and the future of action learning

Action Leadership Ortrun Zuber-Skerritt, 2011-04-15 Action leadership is a creative innovative collaborative and self developed way to lead It eschews the hierarchical structure usually associated with leadership and is based instead on the democratic values of freedom equality inclusion and self realization It take responsibility for not control over people through networking and orchestrating human energy towards a holistic outcome that benefits the common interest Action leaders are passionate people who abide by the motto that Learning does not mean to fill a barrel but rather to ignite a flame in others And in this time of rapid economic political technological social and ecological changes action leadership and action leaders are precisely what s needed to improve how people and organizations engage constructively to address the myriad complex issues challenging society at all levels Action Leadership Towards a Participatory Paradigm explains and illustrates how action leadership can be developed through participatory action learning and action research PALAR It addresses real life issues by people who choose to work collaboratively towards shared goals while developing their learning insights knowledge people skills and personal relationships through involvement in a PALAR project The book provides a conceptual framework for action leadership and for the integrative practical theory of PALAR and examples of applications in higher education management education for organization development and community development Readers are encouraged to adopt adapt and further develop the evolving concepts of action leadership and PALAR in a participatory paradigm of learning research and development

Applications of Action Learning George P. Boulden, 2017-04-26 Action Learning is the brain child of Professor Reginald Reg Revans Revans believed that management was a practical subject carried out by practical people in the real world of work not an academic subject to be taught by University Professors who had no experience of the real world of work Action learning uses the participant s actual job to identify and satisfy real learning needs the specific Knowledge Skills Experience and Behavior appropriate to the situation Unlike training It provides a holistic framework through which all four aspects of our behavioral package are objectively assessed by the facilitator and comrades in adversity to help participants identify the things they need to change to be successful These needs once identified are met through a development program created and monitored with the help and support of the facilitator and colleagues in the set This book

- 1 Explains the philosophy of Action Learning
- 2 Describes the various models and their application
- 3 Provides an objective analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of the various options
- 4 Examines how Action Learning can help in today's world to develop organisations and their people
- 5 Offers reference information for those who would like to learn more

Note Whilst Reg's focus for Action Learning was on management development this process is equally applicable to any personal or organisational development need We hope you will find this book useful and are happy to help interested readers with further information or advice on specific program design and management
