Robert R. Redfield

Acts And Omissions:

Act and Omission in Criminal Law Roni Rosenberg, 2024-08-30 This book offers an innovative perspective on the critical distinction between acts and omissions in criminal law a distinction that runs like a defining thread through all types of criminal offenses While any act that positively causes a prohibited harm is sufficient for a conviction an omission that causes the very same harm warrants a conviction only when there is a legal duty to act This fundamental distinction between acts and omissions is not just relevant to criminal law but it is also deeply rooted in our moral thinking Thus it is commonly argued that the difference between acts and omissions is also applicable to the intuitive moral distinction between active euthanasia forbidden in most countries and passive euthanasia permitted in many countries under certain circumstances Hence the significance of this book is threefold First it offers a comprehensive coherent and systematic discussion of the intersections between the philosophical moral and the legal criminal aspects of this fundamental topic Second it offers a novel rationale for the distinction between acts and omissions based on the principle of autonomy Finally it demonstrates the influences of the theoretical discussion on the most significant practical questions This book will be of interest to researchers academics and policy makers working in the areas of criminal law moral philosophy and bioethics

Voluntary

Euthanasia and the Common Law Margaret Otlowski, 1997 Margaret Otlowski investigates the complex and controversial issue of active voluntary euthanasia She critically examines the criminal law prohibition of medically administered active voluntary euthanasia in common law jurisdictions and carefully looks at the situation as handled in practice The evidence of patient demands for active euthanasia and the willingness of some doctors to respond to patients requests is explored and an argument for reform of the law is made with reference to the position in the Netherlands where active voluntary euthanasia is now openly practiced
