Actual Minds Possible Worlds:

Actual Minds, Possible Worlds Jerome Seymour Bruner, 1986 Bruner sets forth nothing less than a new agenda for the study of the mind He examines the irrepressibly human acts of imagination that allow us to make experience meaningful he calls this side of mental activity the narrative mode and his book makes important advances in the effort to unravel its nature

Rhetoric and Irony C. Jan Swearingen, 1991 This pathbreaking study integrates the histories of rhetoric literacy and literary aesthetics up to the time of Augustine focusing on Western concepts of rhetoric as dissembling and of language as deceptive that Swearingen argues have received curiously prominent emphasis in Western aesthetics and language theory Swearingen reverses the traditional focus on rhetoric as an oral agonistic genre and examines it instead as a paradigm for literate discourse She proposes that rhetoric and literacy have in the West disseminated the interrelated notions that through learning rhetoric individuals can learn to manipulate language and others that language is an unreliable manipulable and contingent vehicle of thought meaning and communication and that literature is a body of pretty lies and beguiling fictions In a bold concluding chapter Swearingen aligns her thesis concerning early Western literacy and rhetoric with contemporary critical and rhetorical theory with feminist studies in language psychology and culture and with studies of literacy in multi and cross cultural settings

In Defense of Reading Sarah E. Worth, 2017-02-08 Why should we read We assume that reading is good for us but often we cannot articulate exactly what it does for us In this fascinating book Sarah Worth addresses from a philosophical perspective the many ways in which reading benefits us morally socially and cognitively Worth leads her readers through the subtle questions of the ways in which we understand fiction nonfiction and the overlap and blending of other genre distinctions Ultimately she argues that reading hearing and telling well told stories is of the utmost importance in developing a healthy sense of personal identity a greater sense of narrative coherence and an increased ability to make different kinds of inferences Engaging classical philosophical questions in the contemporary landscape of educational literacy and the inclusion of fiction in a classroom curriculum Worth demonstrates how our hyper focus on genre distinctions moves us away from a real engagement with narrative understanding and narrative comprehension

Centering Anishinaabeg Studies Jill Doerfler, Niigaanwewidam James Sinclair, Heidi Kiiwetinepinesiik Stark, 2013-02-01 For the Anishinaabeg people who span a vast geographic region from the Great Lakes to the Plains and beyond stories are vessels of knowledge They are bagijiganan offerings of the possibilities within Anishinaabeg life Existing along a broad narrative spectrum from aadizookaanag traditional or sacred narratives to dibaajimowinan histories and news as well as everything in between storytelling is one of the central practices and methods of individual and community existence Stories create and understand survive and endure revitalize and persist They honor the past recognize the present and provide visions of the future In remembering re making and re writing stories Anishinaabeg storytellers have forged a well traveled path of agency resistance and resurgence Respecting this tradition this groundbreaking anthology features twenty four contributors who utilize creative and critical approaches to propose that this people s stories carry dynamic answers to questions posed within Anishinaabeg communities nations and the world at large Examining a range of stories and storytellers across time and space each contributor explores how narratives form a cultural political and historical foundation for Anishinaabeg Studies Written by Anishinaabeg and non Anishinaabeg scholars storytellers and activists these essays draw upon the power of cultural expression to illustrate active and ongoing senses of Anishinaabeg life They are new and dynamic bagijiganan revealing a viable and sustainable center for Anishinaabeg Studies what it has been what it is what it can be Narrative Mediation John Winslade,Gerald D. Monk,2000-01-28 In this groundbreaking book John Winslade and Gerald Monk leaders in the narrative therapy movement introduce an innovative conflict resolution paradigm that is a revolutionary departure from the traditional problem solving interest based model of resolving disputes The narrative mediation approach encourages the conflicting parties to tell their personal story of the conflict and reach resolution through a profound understanding of the context of their individual stories The authors map out the theoretical foundations of this new approach to conflict resolution and show how to apply specific techniques for the practical application of narrative mediation to a wide variety of conflict situations CIEFL Bulletin ,1990 The Synopticon ,1990 Major philosophical concepts outlines with reading lists referring to quotations in vols of the series Great books of the Western world

Tell Me Aidan Chambers,1996 There is a correlation between the richness of the reading environment in which readers live and the richness of their talk about what they ve read In any group of children we find that if they begin by sharing their most obvious observations they soon accumulate a body of understanding that reveals the heart of a text and its meanings for them all Talking about a book helps a child find the heart of a story make sense of a string of facts and understand complicated ideas Aidan Chambers proposes an approach for discussing books so children learn to talk well about what they ve read Indeed not only talk well but listen well And not just about books but about other things For the Tell me approach ultimately helps children learn to clarify ideas for themselves and to communicate with others It is in short a basic step in applying knowledge and articulating meaning Tell Me offers practical information about book talking in the classroom explaining some of the processes and outlining the ground rules developed by teachers and others who work with children and books From their experience he has formulated a Framework a repertoire of questions that assist readers in speaking out their reading Tell Me is companion to The Reading Environment Young EFL Readers and Their Books Lydia

Williams,1998 For the Learning of Mathematics ,2001 Canadian Review of Comparative Literature ,1992 Why Language Matters for Theory of Mind Janet Wilde Astington,Jodie A. Baird,2005-03-24 An exploration of how children develop an understanding of the theory of mind the concept that people are mental beings who have beliefs desires emotions and intentions and whose actions and interactions can be interpreted and explained by taking account of these mental states

Children in Literature - Children's Literature International Federation for Modern Languages and Literatures. Congress,Paul Neubauer,2002 The focus of the papers selected for this volume ranges from the establishment of regional and national literatures for the young to the presentation and characterization of youth and adolescence in diverse forms and formats of literature The changing goals of canonized texts for educational as well as inspirational purposes are reflected in the diversity of historical and cultural policies of instruction and emancipation through literary and poetical works historical and sociological aspects dominate these questions addressed to individual works as well as to whole literatures designed for children On the other hand the structural properties of children s literature and the actual reception of representative texts by child readers provide an equally fruitful area of psychological pedagogical or aesthetic investigation Here the rewriting of different kinds of literatures for the use of children receives as much attention as the creation of works aiming especially at the youthful readership of a given age and area in this context of critical evaluations a variety of adaptations and reconceptualizations is presented from medieval Portuguese historiography to Michel Tournier s changing configurations of his own works for different audiences

Mapping Strategic Thought Anne Sigismund Huff,1990-12-11 A two fold cognitive study including a description of empirical investigations on issues of concern to strategic management and a presentation of a set of methodological tools for depicting and analyzing managerial thought Choice ,1987
