The true pioneers in electronic publishing put their bibliographic databases on tape and online in the 1960s Nearly all of them had long experience with compiling information for distribution in printed form and a strong market connection As a result of Soviet advances in science and space technology American government support for information science and academic libraries flowed freely for a little over a decade making possible tremendous advances in technology in retrieval techniques and in sophisticated coverage Advances in information technology and market conditions have encouraged many more participants to underwrite the development of databases that now extend into the arts social sciences business and popular interests These essays show how production statistics accompanied by statements of editorial coverage provide a fairly accurate reflection of output of many of the major disciplinary bibliographic databases The urgent priority of information resources in the 1960s has encouraged comprehensive servicing of the formal research literature as published in journals and monographs Authors have counted subject words languages origins types of publication and so on over several decades This volume also includes articles on some databases that are not strictly bibliographic such as the CMG database of college courses which illuminates some of the changes in college textbook publishing Information seekers will find the many tables of practical use as guidance to what and how much may be found within each database Analysts of publishing of science policy and of higher education will find information relevant to expenditures human resources and other indicators of education research and technology activity

Just in Time Teaching
Scott Simkins,Mark Maier,2023-07-03

Just in Time Teaching JiTT is a pedagogical approach that requires students to answer questions related to an upcoming class a few hours beforehand using an online course management system While the phrase just in time may evoke shades of slap dash work and cut corners JiTT pedagogy is just the opposite It helps students to view learning as a process that takes time introspection and persistence Students who experience JiTT come to class better prepared and report that it helps to focus and organize their out of class studying Their responses to JiTT questions make gaps in their learning visible to the teacher prior to class enabling him or her to address learning gaps while the material is still fresh in students minds hence the label just in time JiTT questions differ from traditional homework problems in being designed not only to build cognitive skills but also to help students confront misconceptions make connections to previous knowledge and develop metacognitive thinking practices Students consequently spend more time on course concepts and ideas but also read their textbooks in ways that result in more effective and deeper learning Starting the class with students work also dramatically changes the classroom learning environment creating greater student engagement This book demonstrates that JiTT has broad appeal across the academy Part I provides a broad overview of JiTT introducing the pedagogy and exploring various dimensions of its use without regard to discipline Part II of the book demonstrates JiTT's remarkable cross-disciplinary impact with examples of applications in physics biology the geosciences economics history and the humanities Just in Time Teaching article from The Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education Reprinted with permission from Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education Magazine www.hispanicoutlook.com Teaching Tips Marvin Druger, Eleanor Dantzler Siebert, Linda W. literacy skills in the classroom including Progressing from digital literacy to digital fluency Increasing digital literacy by creating digital content Assessment of digital literacy Identifying ethical considerations with digital literacy Sharing digital content outside of the classroom Identifying misinformation in digital communications Digitizing instructional practices like lab notes and essays Reframing digital literacy from assumption to opportunity Preparing students to teach digital literacy to others Collaborating with other departments on campus to support digital literacy instruction Incorporating media into digital literacy digital media literacy Using digital storytelling and infographics to teach content knowledge Weaving digital literacy throughout the curriculum of a program and with increasing depth IUSB Bulletin Indiana University at South Bend,1976 Insights in Public Health Education and Promotion: 2021 Marcelo Demarzo,2022-11-14 Report on the National Science Foundation Disciplinary Workshops on Undergraduate Education ,1989 Centering Humanism in STEM Education Bryan Dewsbury,Susannah McGowan,Sheila S.
