

aphasia

COMMUNICATING
THROUGH THE BARRIERS.

What is Aphasia?

Aphasia is a language disorder that affects the ability to communicate. It's most often caused by injury to parts of the brain that control speech and language resulting from a stroke.

I need to communicate with someone who has aphasia.

Keep It Simple

Speak in short, simple sentences.

Be Patient

Allow plenty of time for a response. Talk with him/her not for him/her.

Remove Distractions

Turn off radios and TVs.

Be Creative

Try writing, gesturing, pictures and communication tools like an iPad.

Confirm

Repeat back what you think he/she is saying.

People With Aphasia

1. Communicate differently, but they are as smart as they were before.
2. Their hearing is fine: speaking loudly does not help.
3. Aphasia is not contagious! To talk to people with aphasia, you'll just have to communicate differently.

I have aphasia.

Take Your Time

Remember it may take a while to get the words out.

Let People Know What Works Best For You

Do you want a question asked in multiple ways? Let them know.

Use Assistive Devices

Bring photos, diagrams, pen and paper, etc.

Getting Frustrated Is Okay

Don't blame yourself if you get stuck or stumble on your words. Be patient with yourself as you find what works.

If You Get Stuck, You Can

1. Admit you're struggling.
2. Recap what you have discussed so far.
3. Decide whether to carry on or come back to it later.

Castro-Caldas,Hugo R. van Dongen,Anne van Hout,2012-12-06 One of the most fascinating problems in Behavioural Neurology is the question of the cerebral organization for language during childhood Acquired aphasia in children albeit rare is a unique circumstance in which to study the relations between language and the brain during cerebral maturation Its study further contributes to our understanding of the recovery processes and brain plasticity during childhood But while there is a great amount of information and experimental work on brain behaviour relationships in adult subjects the literature about the effects of focal brain lesions in children is both exiguous and scattered throughout scientific journals and books We felt it was time to organize a meeting where scientists in this field could compare their experiences and discuss ideas coming from different areas of research A workshop on Acquired Aphasia in Children was held in Sintra Portugal on September 13 15 1990 and attended by 44 participants from 13 different countries The atmosphere was relaxed and informal and the group was kept small to achieve this effect It was a very lively and pleasant meeting Some consensus was indeed arrived at concerning methodological problems definition of terms and guidelines for future research The main contributions are collected in this book which we hope will serve the scientific community as a reference work on Childhood Aphasia I P M A C C Aphasia and Related Disorders in Children Jon Eisenson,1984 Studies information fundamental to the diagnosis and treatment of the problems of linguistically retarded children Aphasic Children Mildred A.
