Pilgrimage and Holy Space in Late Antique Egypt David Frankfurter, 2015-08-27 This volume deals with the origins and rise of Christian pilgrimage cults in late antique Egypt. Part One covers the major theoretical issues in the study of Coptic pilgrimage such as sacred landscape and shrines catchment areas while Part Two examines native Egyptian and Egyptian Jewish pilgrimage practices. Part Three investigates six major shrines from Philae's diverse non-Christian devotees to the great pilgrim center of Abu Mina and a Thecla shrine on its route. Part Four looks at such diverse pilgrims' rites as oracles, chant and stationary liturgy while Part Five brings in Athanasius's and an anonymous hagiographer's perspectives on pilgrimage in Egypt. The volume includes illustrations of the Abu Mina site pilgrims' ampoules from the Thecla shrine as well as several maps

Egyptian Non-Royal Epithets in the Middle Kingdom Denise M. Doxey, 1998-01-01 This analysis shows how the Egyptian non-royal epithets from the Middle Kingdom c. 2040-1640 BCE provide new insight into the ways in which biographical self-presentation reflects religious and social attitudes and the changing relationship between elite officials and the king

Marxism, Christianity, and Islam Julian Roche, 2024-02-20 Roger Garaudy was for many years at the centre of the French Communist Party but was eventually expelled for his liberal views. In the Seventies he strove to bring Marxism and Christianity together to include all humanity in a project to set all people free. What emerges from Garaudy's project is a very modern Marxism with its emphasis on the individual, its ecological politics and its insistence on religion as central to human emancipation. Although Garaudy himself became frustrated by the failure of Marxism and converted to Islam, eventually resulting in his work being discredited in the West, it is certainly possible that Garaudy's project represents a good, perhaps even the best, starting point for Marxism in today's world

The Writing of Gods Racheli Shalomi-Hen, 2006 This book outlines the development of the divine classifiers in the Egyptian script system from the beginning of writing to the end of the Old Kingdom. The first part discusses the falcon on the standard and the ways in which ancient Egyptian writing system expressed the idea of divine kingship. The seated bearded man is the focus of the second part in which the author follows the sign from its first appearance as a classifier of foreign peoples to its identification with the god Osiris. The third part is dedicated to divine markers and the structure of the divine category in the Pyramid Texts. This part surveys the special orthographic constraints of the Pyramid Texts as well as the evolution of the female divine classifiers. Although the book concentrates on orthographic processes, it takes into account the broader religious context of the Old Kingdom. Hence the relations between the sun god Re and the king as well as the special role of the Great God in the private inscriptions and the appearance of Osiris as a foreigner are also discussed Pharaonic King-lists, Annals, and Day-books Donald B. Redford, 1986 This is a classic study into the Egyptians use of the past focusing on the pictures and texts common in Ancient Egypt showing groupings of kings The author discusses the genesis and development of the king list tradition following a tradition over three millennia After taking a chronological approach to king lists annals and day lists from the Old to New Kingdoms the book focuses on the Aegyptiaca of Manetho perhaps the first truly historical approach to Egyptian sources written during the early Ptolemaic period Social Aspects of Funerary Culture in the Egy[p]tian Old and Middle Kingdoms Harco Willems, 2001 Although Egyptian tombs and funerary texts have been intensively studied attention has been focused on art historical aspects archaeological documentation and theological content Attention for the relationship between burial practices and society has been restricted The symposium of which this volume presents the proceedings is an attempt to show the scientific potential of the sociology of burial The underlying philosophy is that both archaeological and textual sources are ultimately reflections of one social reality Therefore the volume offers contributions by archaeologists and philologists many of which frequently bridge the gap between the two disciplines Bourriau studies the evolution of body position in burials dating between the late Middle Kingdom and early New Kingdom Delrue reviews a recent interpretation of the predynastic cemetery N7000 at Naga ed Deir Fitzenreiter studies the sociological background of ritual scenes in Old Kingdom mastabas Frandsen s analysis touches upon funerary texts touching on substances inside the body which are considered bwt taboo The point of departure for Muller s study is a group of offering deposits at Tell el dab a which are studied in the light of textual information on ritual practice Seidlmayer argues that burial contexts of the First Intermediate Period at Elephantine reflect the same underlying ideas as contemporary tomb scenes Willems commentary of Coffin Texts spells 30 41 interprets these texts as a coherent mortuary liturgy and discusses the context in which the letters to the dead were transmitted to the deceased Ancient Egyptian Religion Henri Frankfort, 2012-06-22 Fascinating study finds underlying unity in Egyptian religions the concept of the changeless Relation of religion to Egyptian society government art more 32 halftones Annales Du Service Des Antiquités de L'Egypte Egypt.
