The Kaiser Index to Black Resources, 1948-1986: D-H, 1992      Sorting Out the New South City, Second Edition Tom Hanchett, 2020-01-08 One of the largest and fastest growing cities in the South Charlotte North Carolina came of age in the New South decades of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries transforming itself from a rural courthouse village to the trading and financial hub of America's premier textile manufacturing region In this book Thomas W Hanchett traces the city's spatial evolution over the course of a century exploring the interplay of national trends and local forces that shaped Charlotte and by extension other New South urban centers Hanchett argues that racial and economic segregation are not age old givens but products of a decades long process Well after the Civil War Charlotte's whites and blacks workers and business owners lived in intermingled neighborhoods The rise of large manufacturing enterprises in the 1880s and 1890s brought social and political upheaval however and the city began to sort out into a checkerboard of distinct neighborhoods segregated by both race and class When urban renewal and other federal funds became available in the mid twentieth century local leaders used the money to complete the sorting out process creating a sector pattern in which wealthy whites increasingly lived on one side of town and blacks on the other A new preface by the author confronts the contemporary implications of Charlotte's resegregation and prospects for its reversal      Dreams of Power K. van Walraven, 2019-01-04 Originally published in 1999 this book was the first study to provide a systematic reconstruction of the OAU's ideological ground work It is based on OAU documents a corpus of African perceptions of OAU functioning collected from governmental and non governmental newspapers and publications from more than thirty African countries and on interviews held with African diplomats and OAU officials It was also the first study to pay attention to the OAU's role in the political psychology of state elites which comes to the fore in the areas of OAU co operation discussed in this book the OAU's internal functioning the former struggle against apartheid and colonialism conflict management and the OAU's role in representing collective African viewpoints in global fora This study was originally a Ph D thesis which was considered to be among the best three dissertations in political science in The Netherlands in 1997      The Shaping of Black Identities Jimmie R. Hawkins, 2025-02-04 Turn the traditional generational groupings on their head through this examination of Black life culture and the struggle for racial justice in the United States The Shaping of Black Identities explores the generations of African Americans who have lived in the twentieth and early twenty first centuries and the impact that living in the United States has had on them Jimmie R Hawkins examines how identity is formed and shaped by internal and external forces He investigates collective memory and the stories told to each succeeding generation about the lives of the preceding generations But most of all this book is about belonging Using the generational time frames established by the Pew Research Center Hawkins proposes six new generational categories rooted in the Black experience the New Negro Motown Black Power Hip Hop BlackLivesMatter and Obama generations He emphasizes the need for reexamination in distinguishing generational uniqueness with attention to disparate nondominant groups Given the history of racial and cultural discrimination against Blacks in the United States such an examination of the ways in which Black life has taken its own unique shape among generations offers new ways to understand the transition in identity adopted by Blacks Hawkins examines the historical contexts that shaped each generation and the general attitudes and perceptions of each generation as influenced by the cultural political and racial environment of the nation Throughout there is a unique focus on Black protest With its attention to each generation of Blacks The Shaping of Black Identities speaks to this active liberative and distinct historical attempt to define the self in the pivotal and ongoing search for meaning Sorting Out the New South City Tom Hanchett,2017-10-06 One of the largest and fastest growing cities in the South Charlotte North Carolina came of age in the New South decades of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries transforming itself from a rural courthouse village to the trading and financial hub of America s premier textile manufacturing region In this book Thomas Hanchett traces the city s spatial evolution over the course of a century exploring the interplay of national trends and local forces that shaped Charlotte and by extension other New South urban centers Hanchett argues that racial and economic segregation are not age old givens but products of a decades long process Well after the Civil War Charlotte s whites and blacks workers and business owners all lived intermingled in a salt and pepper pattern The rise of large manufacturing enterprises in the 1880s and 1890s brought social and political upheaval however and the city began to sort out into a checkerboard of distinct neighborhoods segregated by both race and class When urban renewal and other federal funds became available in the mid twentieth century local leaders used the money to complete the sorting out process creating a sector pattern in which wealthy whites increasingly lived on one side of town and blacks on the other The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints Library of Congress,American Library Association.
