African Trilogy:

The African Trilogy Chinua Achebe, 2017-05-02 Chinua Achebe is considered the father of modern African literature the writer who opened the magic casements of African fiction The African Trilogy comprised of Things Fall Apart Arrow of God and No Longer at Ease is his magnum opus In these masterly novels Achebe brilliantly imagines the lives of three generations of an African community as their world is upended by the forces of colonialism from the first arrival of the British to the waning days of empire The trilogy opens with the groundbreaking Things Fall Apart the tale of Okonkwo a hero in his village whose clashes with missionaries coupled with his own tragic pride lead to his fall from grace Arrow of God takes up the ongoing conflict between continuity and change as Ezeulu the headstrong chief priest finds his authority is under threat from rivals and colonial functionaries But he believes himself to be untouchable and is determined to lead his people even if it is towards their own destruction Finally in No Longer at Ease Okonkwo's grandson educated in England returns to a civil service job in Lagos only to see his morality erode as he clings to his membership in the ruling elite Drawing on the traditional Igbo tales of Achebe's youth The African Trilogy is a literary landmark a mythic and universal tale of modern Africa As Toni Morrison wrote African literature is incomplete and unthinkable without the works of Chinua Achebe For passion intellect and crystalline prose he is unsurpassed

Alamein Simon Ball, 2016 The story of Alamein one of the pivotal battles of the Second World War but also one of the most hotly debated in the years since how it was fought how it has been remembered and what it means for us today

Combat and Morale in the North African Campaign Jonathan Fennell, 2011-02-17 Military professionals and theorists have long understood the relevance of morale in war Montgomery the victor at El Alamein said following the battle that the more fighting I see the more I am convinced that the big thing in war is morale Jonathan Fennell in examining the North African campaign through the lens of morale challenges conventional explanations for Allied success in one of the most important and controversial campaigns in British and Commonwealth history He introduces new sources notably censorship summaries of soldiers mail and an innovative methodology that assesses troop morale not only on the evidence of personal observations and official reports but also on contemporaneously recorded rates of psychological breakdown sickness desertion and surrender He shows for the first time that a major morale crisis and stunning recovery decisively affected Eighth Army's performance during the critical battles on the Gazala and El Alamein lines in 1942
