We're Not Going to Take it Anymore Gerald G. Jackson, 2005 Professor Gerald G. Jackson incorporates the perceptions, ideals, hesitations, and proclamations of the Hip Hop and post Hip Hop generations into the Africana Studies field. He pulls evidence from a rich tapestry of history, classroom learning exercises, student reports, scholar and professional led lectures, discussions, and educational tours to create a groundbreaking multicultural and pluralistic model for the application of Africentric helping to the educational sphere. While the mode varies, the greater number of compositions compiled here are biographies of ordinary and extraordinary African Americans. Culturally affirming, introspective, and expansive, We're Not Going to Take it Anymore is a rarely seen educational innovation.

The Rise and Fall of the American Century William H. Chafe, 2009 Chronicles the varying mood of the country through its changing presidencies from the rise of the metropolis and Teddy Roosevelt in the 1890s to the turbulent era of the Bush administration at the beginning of the twenty-first century.

Performing Memories Gabriele Biotti, 2021-04-26 What is memory today? How can it be approached? Why does the contemporary world seem to be more and more haunted by different types of memories still asking for elaboration? Which artistic experiences have explored and defined memory in meaningful ways? How do technologies and the media have changed it? These are just some of the questions developed in this collection of essays analysing memory and memory shapes which explores the different ways in which past time and its elaboration have been and still are elaborated, discussed, written, or filmed, and contested but also shared. By gathering together scholars from different fields of investigation, this book explores the cultural, social, and artistic tensions in representing the past and the present in understanding our legacies and in approaching historical time and experience. Through the analysis of different representations of memory and the investigation of literature, anthropology, myth, and storytelling, a space of theories and discourses about the symbolic and cultural spaces of memory representation is developed.

A Shepherd in Harlem: The Life and Times of Ezra N. Williams Louis A. DeCaro, Jr., 2011-11-13 The life and times of one of Harlem's leading clergymen in the 20th century.
