Afro-American Writers, 1970 Afro-american Writing, 1973 Afro American Writing An Anthology of Prose and Poetry Richard A. Long, 1985 What is African American Literature? Margo N. Crawford, 2021-01-27

After Kenneth W Warren's What Was African American Literature Margo N Crawford delivers What is African American Literature The idea of African American literature may be much more than literature written by authors who identify as Black What is African American Literature focuses on feeling as form in order to show that African American literature is an archive of feelings a tradition of the tension between uncontainable black affect and rigid historical structure Margo N Crawford argues that textual production of affect such as blush vibration shiver twitch and wink reveals that African American literature keeps reimagining a black collective nervous system Crawford foregrounds the idea of African American literature and uncovers the black feeling world co created by writers and readers Rejecting the notion that there are no formal lines separating African American literature and a broader American literary tradition Crawford contends that the distinguishing feature of African American literature is a moodscape that is as stable as electricity Presenting a fresh perspective on the affective atmosphere of African American literature this compelling text frames central questions around the idea of African American literature shows the limits of historicism in explaining the mood of African American literature and addresses textual production in the creation of the African American literary tradition Part of the acclaimed Wiley Blackwell Manifestos series What is African American Literature is a significant addition to scholarship in the field Professors and students of American literature African American literature and Black Studies will find this book an invaluable source of fresh perspectives and new insights on America's black literary tradition Black Writers of America Richard Kenneth Barksdale, 1972 For courses focusing on African American Writers These courses are offered in English Departments Ethnic Studies Departments and African American Studies Departments This comprehensive collection of Afro American literature from its beginnings to the 1970s provides a generous selection of autobiographies essays speeches letters political pamphlets histories journals and folk literature as well as poems plays and stories all chosen for their artistic and social significance A carefully structured organization and the scope and diversity of selections make the anthology suitable to a variety of approaches chronological by topic by theme or by genre We Wear the Mask Rafia Zafar, 1997 Zafar demonstrates that in doing so these forerunners of modern black American writers both adapted to and reacted against a milieu of social resistance and cultural antipathy By the end of Reconstruction this first century of black writers had paved the way for a distinctive African American literature African-American Writers Philip Bader, 2014-05-14 African American authors have consistently explored the political dimensions of literature and its ability to affect social change African American literature has also provided an essential framework for shaping cultural identity and solidarity From the early slave narratives to the folklore and dialect verse of the Harlem Renaissance to the modern novels of today Teaching African American Literature Maryemma Graham, Marianna W. Davis, Sharon Pineault-Burke, 1998 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Black Voices Abraham Chapman, 1968-09-01 Afro-American Literature Robert Earl Hayden, Robert Hayden, David J. Burrows, Frederick R. Lapedes, 1971 An anthology of fiction poetry drama autobiography and critical essays by African American writers for use in college classes The Greenwood Encyclopedia of African American Literature: D-H Hans A. Ostrom, J. David Macey, 2005 Designed to meet the needs of high school students undergraduates and general readers this encyclopedia is the most comprehensive reference available on African American literature from its origins to the present Other works include many brief entries or offer extended biographical sketches of a limited selection of writers This encyclopedia surpasses existing references by offering full and current coverage of a vast range of authors and topics While most of the entries are on individual authors the encyclopedia gathers together information about the genres and geographical and cultural environments in which these writers have worked and the social political and aesthetic movements in which they have participated Thus the encyclopedia gives special attention to the historical and cultural forces that have shaped African American writing Publisher What Was African American Literature? Kenneth W. Warren, 2012-09-03 African American literature is over With this provocative claim Kenneth Warren sets out to identify a distinctly African American literature and to change the terms with which we discuss it Rather than contest other definitions Warren makes a clear and compelling case for understanding African American literature as creative and critical work written by black Americans within and against the strictures of Jim Crow America Within these parameters his book outlines protocols of reading that best make sense of the literary works produced by African American writers and critics over the first two thirds of the twentieth century In Warren s view African American literature begged the question what would happen to this literature if and when Jim Crow was finally overthrown Thus imagining a world without African American literature was essential to that literature In support of this point Warren focuses on three moments in the history of Phylon an important journal of African American culture In the dialogues Phylon documents the question of whether race would disappear as an organizing literary category emerges as shared ground for critical and literary practice Warren also points out that while scholarship by black Americans has always been the province of a petit bourgeois elite the strictures of Jim Crow enlisted these writers in a politics that served the race as a whole Finally Warren s work sheds light on the current moment in which advocates of African American solidarity insist on a past that is more productively put behind us

The Concise Oxford Companion to African American Literature William L. Andrews, Frances Smith Foster, Trudier Harris, 2001-02-15 A breathtaking achievement this Concise Companion is a suitable crown to the astonishing production in African American literature and criticism that has swept over American literary studies in the last two decades It offers an enormous range of writers from Sojourner Truth to Frederick Douglass from Zora Neale Hurston to Ralph Ellison and from

Toni Morrison to August Wilson It contains entries on major works including synopses of novels such as Harriet Jacobs's Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Richard Wright's Native Son and Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun It also incorporates information on literary characters such as Bigger Thomas Coffin Ed Johnson Kunta Kinte Sula Peace as well as on character types such as Aunt Jemima Brer Rabbit John Henry Stackolee and the trickster Icons of black culture are addressed including vivid details about the lives of Muhammad Ali John Coltrane Marcus Garvey Jackie Robinson John Brown and Harriet Tubman Here too are general articles on poetry fiction and drama on autobiography slave narratives Sunday School literature and oratory as well as on a wide spectrum of related topics Compact yet thorough this handy volume gathers works from a vast array of sources from the black periodical press to women's clubs making it one of the most substantial guides available on the growing exciting world of African American literature Afro-American Literature in the Twentieth Century Michael G. Cooke, 1984 Black American Women's Writing Eva Lennox Birch, 1994 This work discusses a range of novels short stories and essays by black American women writers from the Harlem Renaissance to the present time It begins with a survey of 19th century black women's slave narratives early sentimental novels and autobiographies and then focuses on six writers Zora Neale Hurston Paule Marshall Audre Lorde Toni Morrison Alice Walker and Maya Angelou The text shows how these writers have developed the preoccupations themes and narrative strategies of their literary ancestors Black Literature, 1984 Each Hour Redeem Daylanne K. English, 2013-03-29 Each Hour Redeem advances a major reinterpretation of African American literature from the late eighteenth century to the present by demonstrating how its authors are centrally concerned with racially different experiences of time Daylanne K English argues that from Phillis Wheatley to Suzan Lori Parks African American writers have depicted distinctive forms of temporality to challenge racial injustices supported by dominant ideas of time The first book to explore the representation of time throughout the African American literary canon Each Hour Redeem illuminates how the pervasive and potent tropes of timekeeping provide the basis for an overarching new understanding of the tradition Combining literary historical legal and philosophical approaches Each Hour Redeem examines a wide range of genres including poetry fiction drama slave narratives and other forms of nonfiction English shows that much of African American literature is characterized by strategic anachronism the use of prior literary forms to investigate contemporary political realities as seen in Walter Mosley's recent turn to hard boiled detective fiction By contrast strategic presentism is exemplified in the Black Arts Movement and the Harlem Renaissance and their investment in contemporary political potentialities for example in Langston Hughes and Amiri Baraka's adaptation of the jazz of their eras for poetic form and content Overall the book effectively demonstrates how African American writers have employed multiple and complex conceptions of time not only to trace racial injustice but also to help construct a powerful literary tradition across the centuries Afro-American Literary Study in the 1990s Houston A. Baker (Jr.), Patricia Redmond, 1989 Featuring the work of the most distinguished scholars in the field this volume assesses the state of Afro American literary study and projects a vision of that study for the 1990s A rich and rewarding collection Choice This diverse and inspired collection testifies to the Afro Am academy s extraordinary vitality Voice Literary Supplement
