Here, There, and Elsewhere Tahseen Shams,2020-08-04 Challenging the commonly held perception that immigrants lives are shaped exclusively by their sending and receiving countries Here There and Elsewhere breaks new ground by showing how immigrants are vectors of globalization who both produce and experience the interconnectedness of societies not only the societies of origin and destination but also the societies in places beyond Tahseen Shams posits a new concept for thinking about these places that are neither the immigrants homeland nor hostland the elsewhere Drawing on rich ethnographic data interviews and analysis of the social media activities of South Asian Muslim Americans Shams uncovers how different dimensions of the immigrants ethnic and religious identities connect them to different elsewhere in places as far ranging as the Middle East Europe and Africa Yet not all places in the world are elsewhere How a faraway foreign land becomes salient to the immigrant s sense of self depends on an interplay of global hierarchies homeland politics and hostland dynamics Referencing today s 24 hour news cycle and the ways that social media connects diverse places and peoples at the touch of a screen Shams traces how the homeland hostland and elsewhere combine to affect the ways in which immigrants and their descendants understand themselves and are understood by others
