W. Dillard, 1972 Writing the World Kelly Cherry, 1995 In a series of passionate profound often humorous observations Kelly Cherry explores the art of writing its relationship to place and its importance in our lives I have never written a travel essay Cherry says but her travels inform her poetry and fiction Now seeking to understand what it means to write from any particular place she charts a course in creative nonfiction prose From Cleveland to Yalta Wisconsin to Latvia England to the Arizona desert or the Philippines she writes as a way of knowing the world Along the way we become acquainted with the author herself whose parents were string quartet violinists They didn't go to church and caught up in a rehearsal sometimes forgot to put dinner on the table but there was always music in the house or the tenement flat Cherry recalls warmly the stories of her childhood I don't know whether or not there's a God her mother would say but I know there was a Beethoven and that's good enough for me And always there was writing As young writers do Cherry earned her living at a variety of jobs creating fictional histories of overseas orphans for their U.S. sponsors editing and writing religious textbooks a stint as a visiting professor in southwest Minnesota where in order to live in the dormitory the only housing practicable for someone without a car she had to enroll simultaneously as a student she took astronomy And in the evenings the mornings and other stolen moments she wrote as she does now to create beauty from a specific kind of knowledge the knowledge we acquire by creating beauty Cherry explores what it means to be a Southern writer and a woman writer and discusses the changing face of the profession of writing To be a writer in America is to be marginal she notes adding that perhaps the best place for a serious writer to reside is on the edge outside looking in You seek to know what it means to be living where you are and that search is for a writer a searching out of language That quest is for a writer a questioning For a writer beauty and knowledge begin in the same place With its brilliant insights and beautiful language Writing the World is an eloquent meditation on what it means to be a writer Like Annie Dillard's The Writing Life and Eudora Welty's One Writer's Beginnings Cherry's Writing the World will be a lasting inspiration for anyone who has ever dreamed of being a writer Yellow Shoe Poets George Garrett, 1999-10-01 Since 1964 when Louisiana State University Press published its inaugural book of verse Miller Williams's A Circle of Stone its poetry list has grown exponentially 191 books by 93 poets into a program that inspires understandable pride in those associated with it Two collections have won the Pulitzer Prize The Flying Change 1986 by Henry Taylor and Alive Together 1996 by Lisel Mueller Another book by Mueller The Need to Hold Still 1980 won the National Book Award while several other LSU titles have been finalists for that distinction most recently The Fields of Praise 1997 by Marilyn Nelson and The Vigil 1993 by Margaret Gibson Dozens more have been recognized for their excellence through a host of various honors The Press publishes the winner of the annual Walt Whitman Award given by The Academy of American Poets for a first collection and in 1996 it launched the Southern Messenger series in collaboration with Dave Smith bringing two shining works into the fold each year The appearance of The Collected Poems of Robert Penn Warren in 1998 meant for the Press the realization of a long dearly held dream To mark this thirty five year old tradition as the century and millennium turn and to offer a sampling of its richness The Yellow Shoe Poets a retrospective anthology was compiled under the editorship of George Garrett a longtime colleague of the Press and the author of eight poetry volumes Say the LSU poets real fast with a southern drawl and you get the ridiculously wonderful moniker that poet Elizabeth Seydel Morgan s young friend innocently mistook for this noble band It s an image Brendan Galvin has appropriated to a perfect fit in his poem Yellow Shoe Poet written on behalf of his fellow yellow shoes across the years All 173 poems are taken from LSU Press books and were selected by the poets themselves if living Arranged alphabetically by author they consist of at least one poem from every poet published by the Press Goethe s admonition that one ought every day at least to read a good poem can find no better starting point than in The Yellow Shoe Poets
