from the formal ending of empires to the postcolonial European present Elizabeth Buettner charts the long term development of post war decolonization processes as well as the histories of inward and return migration from former empires which followed She shows that not only were former colonies remade as a result of the path to decolonization so too was Western Europe with imperial traces scattered throughout popular and elite cultures consumer goods religious life political formations and ideological terrains People were also inwardly mobile including not simply Europeans returning home but Asians Africans West Indians and others who made their way to Europe to forge new lives The result is a Europe fundamentally transformed by multicultural diversity and cultural hybridity and by the destabilization of assumptions about race culture and the meanings of place and where imperial legacies and memories live on

When Right Makes Might
Stacie E. Goddard, 2018-12-15 Why do great powers accommodate the rise of some challengers but contain and confront others even at the risk of war When Right Makes Might proposes that the ways in which a rising power legitimizes its expansionist aims significantly shapes great power responses Stacie E Goddard theorizes that when faced with a new challenger great powers will attempt to divine the challenger s intentions does it pose a revolutionary threat to the system or can it be incorporated into the existing international order Goddard departs from conventional theories of international relations by arguing that great powers come to understand a contender s intentions not only through objective capabilities or costly signals but by observing how a rising power justifies its behavior to its audience To understand the dynamics of rising powers then we must take seriously the role of legitimacy in international relations A rising power s ability to expand depends as much on its claims to right as it does on its growing might As a result When Right Makes Might poses significant questions for academics and policymakers alike Underpinning her argument on the oft ignored significance of public self presentation Goddard suggests that academics and others should recognize talk s critical role in the formation of grand strategy Unlike rationalist and realist theories that suggest rhetoric is mere window dressing for power When Right Makes Might argues that rhetoric fundamentally shapes the contours of grand strategy Legitimacy is not marginal to international relations it is essential to the practice of power politics and rhetoric is central to that practice
