The Archive of Loss Maura Finkelstein, 2019-03-21 Mumbai's textile industry is commonly but incorrectly understood to be an extinct relic of the past In The Archive of Loss Maura Finkelstein examines what it means for textile mill workers who are assumed not to exist to live and work during a period of deindustrialization Finkelstein shows how mills are ethnographic archives of the city where documents artifacts and stories exist in the buildings and in the bodies of workers Workers pain illnesses injuries and exhaustion narrate industrial decline the ways in which they live in tenements exist outside and resist the values expounded by modernity and the rumors and untruths they share about textile worker strikes and a mill fire help them make sense of the industry's survival In outlining this archive's contents Finkelstein shows how mills which she conceptualizes as lively ruins become a lens through which to challenge reimagine and alter ways of thinking about the past present and future in Mumbai and beyond

The Ghosts of Empire Samuel Veissière, 2011 Set against the background of nighttime encounters in the rough streets of Brazil's Salvador da Bahia this experimental ethnography explores how certain transnational characters are at once co constructed and reinvented through the legacy of conquest and the global inequalities of late capitalism Theorizing the desires that drive these encounters as forms of colonial violence and sincere emancipatory strategies author Samuel Veissiere's gaze travels outward across the Atlantic and the historical violence of empire and then turns back inward to revisit the violence of his own white colonial desires Series Contributions to Transnational Feminism Vol 3

A Different Kind of Ethnography Denielle Elliott, Dara Culhane, 2017-01-01 Produced by members of the Centre for Imaginative Ethnography this collection introduces the idea of an imaginative and creative approach to anthropological inquiry one that is collaborative open ended embodied affective and experimental Rather than structuring the book around traditional methods like interviewing participant observation and documentary research the authors organize their thoughts around different methodologies sensing walking writing performing and recording As well innovative practical exercises are included that allow ethnographers to not just talk the talk but also walk the walk so they can deepen complicate and extend ethnographic inquiry A list of additional resources at the end of each chapter provide rich support for those who want to pursue more imaginative and creative methodologies
