After The School Bell Rings:

After the School Bell Rings Carl A. Grant,Christine E. Sleeter,1996 A revised and extended edition reintroducing the Five Bridges Junior High and following 24 students through their high school years and one year afterward In this ethnographic study the authors use interviews and observations of the multi racial multi ethnic students teachers and administrators to determine the students school and career choice aspirations examining how the schools failed to help them achieve their dreams The study touches on issues of family economy race social class and sexism Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR After the School Bell Rings Carl Grant,1986-04 After The School Bell Rings Carl Grant Hoefs-Bascom,Christine E. Sleeter,2012-11-12 Set in the American community of Rivercrest in a multi racial junior school this text provides a portrait of the beliefs and understandings held by students teachers and administrators with respect to issues such as race social class and gender After The School Bell Rings Carl Grant Hoefs-Bascom,Christine E. Sleeter,2012-11-12 Set in the American community of Rivercrest in a multi racial junior school this text provides a portrait of the beliefs and understandings held by students teachers and administrators with respect to issues such as race social class and gender After the Bell Rings Carol Diggory Shields,2015 A collection of rhyming poems describes what kids do after the school bell rings Documents Communicated to the Senate and House of Representatives ,1893 Unequal City Carla Shedd,2015-10-20 Chicago has long struggled with racial residential segregation high rates of poverty and deepening class stratification and it can be a challenging place for adolescents to grow up Unequal City examines the ways in which Chicago s most vulnerable residents navigate their neighborhoods life opportunities and encounters with the law In this pioneering analysis of the intersection of race place and opportunity sociologist and criminal justice expert Carla Shedd illuminates how schools either reinforce or ameliorate the social inequalities that shape the worlds of these adolescents Shedd draws from an array of data and in depth interviews with Chicago youth to offer new insight into this understudied group Focusing on four public high schools with differing student bodies Shedd reveals how the predominantly low income African American students at one school encounter obstacles their more affluent white counterparts on the other side of the city do not face Teens often travel long distances to attend school which due to Chicago s segregated and highly unequal neighborhoods can involve crossing class race and gang lines As Shedd explains the disadvantaged teens who traverse these boundaries daily develop a keen perception of injustice or the recognition that their economic and educational opportunities are restricted by their place in the social hierarchy Adolescents worldviews are also influenced by encounters with law enforcement while traveling to school and during school hours Shedd tracks the rise of metal detectors surveillance cameras and pat downs at certain Chicago schools Along with police procedures like stop and frisk these prison like practices lead to distrust of authority and feelings of powerlessness among the adolescents who experience mistreatment either firsthand or vicariously Shedd finds that the racial composition of the student body profoundly shapes students perceptions of injustice

The more diverse a school is the more likely its students of color will recognize whether they are subject to discriminatory treatment. By contrast African American and Hispanic youth whose schools and neighborhoods are both highly segregated and highly policed are less likely to understand their individual and group disadvantage due to their lack of exposure to youth of differing backgrounds.
