Aftermath II:

Journal Bath and West and Southern Counties Society,1892 Making Peace with Your Enemy Laetitia Bucaille,2019-06-14 Reconciliation between political antagonists who went to war against each other is not a natural process Hostility toward an enemy only slowly abates and the political resolution of a conflict is not necessarily followed by the immediate pacification of society and reconciliation among individuals Under what conditions can a combatant be brought to understand the motivations of his enemies consider them as equals and develop a new relationship going so far as to even forgive them By comparing the experiences of veterans of the South African and Franco Algerian conflicts Laetitia Bucaille seeks to answer this question She begins by putting the postconflict and postcolonial order that characterizes South Africa France and Algeria into perspective examining how each country provided symbolic and material rewards to the veterans and how past conflict continues to shape the present Exploring the narratives of ex combatants Bucaille also fosters an understanding of their intimate experiences as well as their emotions of pride loss and guilt In its comparative analysis of South Africa and Algeria Making Peace with Your Enemy reveals a paradox In Algeria the rhetoric of the regime is characterized by resentment toward colonizing France but relations between individuals Reconciliation are warm However in South Africa democratization was based on official reconciliation but distance and wariness between whites and blacks prevail Despite these differences Bucaille argues South African Algerian and French ex adversaries face a similar challenge how to extricate oneself from colonial domination and the violence of war in order to build relationships based on trust
