Age And Ageing Policy In Germany:

Age and Ageing Policy in Germany Thomas Scharf, 1998-09 Like all other advanced Western societies Germany is coming to terms with the phenomenon of an ageing population The demographic challenge posed by population ageing is generally seen in terms of potential crisis in the funding of health and social programmes Some social scientists have even suggested that the early decades of the next century will be marked by conflict between the generations with young and old competing for increasingly scarce resources This is the first book written in English to address comprehensively ageing policies in Germany and the contribution of older people to German society The book examines the development of social policies affecting older people since the origins of the German welfare state under Bismarck and looks at how policy makers have sought to cope with the growing numbers of elderly people over the years The social economic and political role of older people in contemporary Germany and their contribution to society are also explored from their development into a more politically active sector of society to their changing relationship with the labour market and their social integration in terms of their relationships with families neighbourhoods and local communities Ageing and Old-Age Style in Günter Grass, Ruth Klüger, Christa Wolf, and Martin Walser Stuart Taberner, 2013 Explores the performance of aging in the late style of Günter Grass Ruth Klüger Christa Wolf and Martin Walser Demographers say that by the year 2060 every seventh person in Germany will be aged eighty or older and every third person over sixty five The prediction for other Western countries is scarcely different Indeed the aging society is seen by some as a graver threat than even global warming with potentially unmanageable tensions relating to intergenerational relationships work and benefits and flows of people This book explores the representation and performance of aging in recent late style German language fiction It situates the authors chosen as case studies Günter Grass Ruth Klüger Christa Wolf and Martin Walser in their biographical and social contexts and explores the significance of their aesthetic figuring of aging for debates raging both in Germany and internationally In particular the book looks at gender generations and trauma and their impact on how writers narrativize aging Finally it examines the timeliness of these different representations and late style performances of aging in the context of the shift of social political and economic power away from the declining societies of the West to the ascendant societies of the East Stuart Taberner is Professor of Contemporary German Literature Culture and Society at the University of Leeds

Age-Friendly Cities and Communities in International Comparison Thibault Moolaert, Suzanne Garon, 2015-12-01 The supportive role of urban spaces in active aging is explored on a world scale in this unique resource using the WHO's Age Friendly Cities and Community model Case studies from the U S Canada Australia Hong Kong and elsewhere demonstrate how the model translates to fit diverse social political and economic realities across cultures and continents ways age friendly programs promote senior empowerment and how their value can be effectively assessed Age friendly criteria for communities are defined and critiqued while extensive empirical data describe challenges as they affect elders globally and how environmental support can help meet them These chapters offer age friendly cities as a corrective to the overemphasis on the medical aspects of elders lives and should inspire new research practice and public policy Included in the coverage A critical review of the WHO Age Friendly Cities Methodology and its implementation Seniors perspectives on age friendly communities The implementation of age friendly cities in three districts of Argentina Age friendly New York City a case study Toward an age friendly European Union Age friendliness childhood and dementia toward generationally intelligent environments With its balance of attention to universal and culture specific concerns Age Friendly Cities and Communities in International Comparison will be of particular interest to sociologists gerontologists and policymakers Given the rapid adoption of the age friendly perspective following its development by the World Health Organization the critical assessment offered in this volume is especially welcome Professor Chris Phillipson University of Manchester Late Working Life in Four European Countries Rachel Crossdale,Liam Foster,Alan Walker,2025-12-12 Focusing on Germany Poland Sweden and the UK Late Working Life in Four European Countries distils the key findings from each country delivering an up to date comparative analysis of the policies in the four contrasting countries The SAGE Handbook of Social Gerontology Dale Dannefer,Chris Phillipson,2010-08-13 This SAGE Handbook integrates basic research on social dimensions of aging It presents programmatic applications of research in areas not often seen in Handbooks including imprisonment technology and aging urban society aged and elderly migration The authors constitute a Who s Who of international gerontology and the focus on globalization and aging is unique among Handbooks today This Handbook should be in the library of every social gerontologist Vern L Bengtson Professor of Gerontology University of Southern California This volume reflects the emergence of ageing as a global concern including chapters by international scholars from Asia Australasia Europe and North America It provides a comprehensive overview of key trends and issues in the field drawing upon the full range of social science disciplines The Handbook is organized into five parts each exploring different aspects of research into social aspects of ageing Disciplinary overviews summaries of findings from key disciplinary areas within social gerontology Social relationships and social differences explores area like social inequality gender religion inter generational ties social networks and friendships Individual characteristics and change in later life examines different aspects of individual aging including self and identity cognitive processes and bio social interactions and their impact on physical and psychological aging Comparative perspectives and cultural innovations topics include ageing and development ageing in a global context migration and cross cultural perspectives on grandparenthood Policy issues covering policy concerns such as long term care technology and older people end of life issues work and retirement and the politics of old age This will be essential reading for all students researchers and policy makers concerned with the major issues influencing the lives of older people across the globe A History of Old Age Pat Thane,2005 Seven contributors examine how the best thinkers and artists of each historical epoch in the West have treated old age Full of surprising and fascinating facts this is an uplifting companion for those who like it or not are beginning to understand the inevitability of their own aging process Opportunities and Challenges in an Ageing Society Wim J. A. van den Heuvel, Raymond Illsley, Anne Jamieson, C. P. M. Knipscheer, 1992

 Paperback This is a reflection on the ageing societies in the Western World It is organised in three parts the first on social relationships family and ageing the second on the labour market retirement and the pension system and the last part on health care and ageing The emphasis is on the opportunities and challenges and not on the problems of an ageing society In contrast to many studies in this area the editors do not like to dramatise the future of ageing societies and prefer to look at the process in proportion The editors are of the opinion that there is a cumulation of negative scenarios without any perspective on the possible opportunities because of the changing age structure of society The Many Faces of Health, Competence and Well-Being in Old Age Hans-Werner Wahl, Herrmann Brenner, Heidrun Mollenkopf, Dietrich Rothenbacher, Christoph Rott, 2006-03-14 The main aim of the book is to provide an interdisciplinary treatment of a set of key issues of current ageing research i e health competence and well being These key issues are addressed based on three converging research streams social ecological research which assumes that major processes and outcomes of ageing such as day to day competence are shaped by social and physical spatial environments geropsychology research which is driven by a life span developmental conception of ageing and epidemiology which offers most fundamental disease function and prevention related data Each of the three major research directions are outlined by a short introduction followed by three chapters treating in an empirical manner most recent key research questions All chapters are then also discussed by renowned ageing experts This volume links ageing research with policy considerations and implications and establishes a link between European research and the knowledge base of the international scientific community concerned with ageing This book will be of great interest to scholars and graduate students in ageing research in the social and behavioural field as well as in epidemiology geriatrics geropsychiatry demography and biogerontology Annotated Bibliography on Productive Ageing in Asia and the Pacific ,1996 Germany ,2005-11-24 This report contains a survey of the main barriers to employment for older workers an assessment of measures to overcome these barriers and a set of policy recommendations for Germany Cumulated Index to the Books ,1999 Handbook of West European Political Science Kenneth Newton, Clare Dekker, 1995 The Economics of Ageing John Creedy, 1995 Comprises 32 papers concerned with the economic aspects of individual and population ageing Includes trends from the end of World War II and projections to 2025 Social Policy in Ageing Societies Alan Walker, Gerhard Naegele, 2009-01-15 This collection offers a fascinating comparative analysis of two very different approaches to social policy on ageing By analyzing the different foundations and systems established by Beveridge in Britain and Bismarck in Germany this book provides a well constructed and truly comparative perspective on a range of key issues Each chapter is co authored by a leading German and a British figure in the field allowing for a unique insight into the differing policies Ageing Populations Robert P.

Hagemann, Giuseppe Nicoletti, 1989 Social Sciences Index , 2001 Generational Accounting in Europe European Commission. Directorate-General for Economic and Financial Affairs, 2000 Aging Vinod Kumar, 1996 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1998-04 Researching Ageing and Later Life Anne Jamieson, Christina R. Victor, 2002 This edited volume addresses the methodological challenges entailed in studying the process of ageing and life course changes as well as the experience of being old The book focuses on the theory and practice of doing research using a wide range of examples and case studies
