Cardboard Sea. Teacher's Manual Theodore Lester Harris, Louise Matteoni, Lorena A. Anderson, 1980 Reading the Margins Michael J Gilmour, 2024-09-24 The Bible and theology are contested spaces battlegrounds where participants guard entrenched beliefs against perceived threats But literature observes novelist Salman Rushdie opens the universe It expands what we perceive and understand and ultimately what we are Writers make our world feel larger and more inclusive When other forces push in the direction of narrowness bigotry tribalism cultism and war fiction encourages understanding sympathy and identification with others Reading the Margins invites readers to immerse themselves in imaginary worlds and to pursue visions of justice and compassion Whether stories about poverty empire war or the environment the writers considered raise moral questions and often in the process even unwittingly deepen our understanding of biblical calls for kindness and mercy Reading the Margins offers a kind of commentary on biblical ethics Using Matthew s Beatitudes and sheep and goats parable as an organizing principle Gilmour argues there is much to learn about Jesus s peacemakers and call to feed the hungry from aspirational fiction and poetry Keys to Reading: Early light Louise Matteoni, 1980

Radway, 2000-11-09 Deftly melding ethnography cultural history literary criticism and autobiographical reflection A Feeling for Books is at once an engaging study of the Book of the Month Club s influential role as a cultural institution and a profoundly personal meditation about the experience of reading Janice Radway traces the history of the famous mail order book club from its controversial founding in 1926 through its evolution into an enterprise uniquely successful in blending commerce and culture

Framing her historical narrative with writing of a more personal sort Radway reflects on the contemporary role of the Book of the Month Club in American cultural history and in her own life Her detailed account of the standards and practices employed by the club s in house editors is also an absorbing story of her interactions with those editors Examining her experiences as a fourteen year old reader of the club s selections and later as a professor of literature she offers a series of rigorously analytical yet deeply personal readings of such beloved novels as Marjorie Morningstar and To Kill a Mockingbird Rich and rewarding this book will captivate and delight anyone who is interested in the history of books and in the personal and transformative experience of reading
