Robert V. Kail,John C. Cavanaugh,1996 Kail and Cavanaugh tell the story of the life span in a narrative that is intuitive and holistic eliminating the redundancy of describing the life span via the traditional 5 x 3 of similar organizational structure used by many texts for the course The book s four part structure reflects early childhood the school years the working raising children years and later life a structure that makes sense to students and more accurately depicts the developmental process The author s four part structure reflects the emerging view in several disciplines that development needs to be viewed in larger segments to reflect both the reality of large individual differences not all five year olds are the same and the linkages across the life span of such domains as memory language perception etc To reflect these issues the text includes age specific chapters where essential prenatal development adolescence entering adulthood middle age later life and more topical chapter where appropriate to reflect the continuity of development entering the social world the school years relationships work in adulthood and dying and bereavement The Lifespan Guy R. Lefrançois,1993 This fascinating text provides a comprehensive overview of human development from conception until death The text is arranged chronologically as most Lifespan courses are taught It blends solid theory with clever illustrations and lively examples that hold the students attention Lefrancois engaging friendly writing style and use of humor keeps the student interested This edition has over 500 new references for cultural timeliness and added pedagogical features to make it accessible and technologically updated
