Cargo Cults And Millenarian Movements Transoceanic Comparisons Of New Religious Movements:

Cargo Cults and Millenarian Movements G. W. Trompf, 2012-10-25 The series Religion and Society RS contributes to the exploration of religions as social systems both in Western and non Western societies in particular it examines religions in their differentiation from and intersection with other cultural systems such as art economy law and politics Due attention is given to paradigmatic case or comparative studies that exhibit a clear theoretical orientation with the empirical and historical data of religion and such aspects of religion as ritual the religious imagination constructions of tradition iconography or media In addition the formation of religious communities their construction of identity and their relation to society and the wider public are key issues of this series

The Oxford Handbook of Millennialism Catherine Wessinger, 2011-10-17 Christian Dispensationalism the Taiping Revolution cargo cults in Oceania the Baha i Faith and the Raelian Movement would seem to have little in common What they share however is a millennial orientation the audacious human hope for a collective salvation which may be heavenly or earthly or both Although many religions feature a belief in personal salvation millennial faiths are characterized by the expectation that salvation will be accomplished for an entire group by a superhuman agent with or without human collaboration The Oxford Handbook of Millennialism offers readers an in depth look at both the theoretical underpinnings of the study of millennialism and its many manifestations across history and cultures While the term millennialism is drawn from Christianity it is a category that is used to study religious expressions in diverse cultures religious traditions and historical periods Sometimes millennial expectations are expressed in peaceful ways Other times millennialists become involved in violence The Oxford Handbook of Millennialism begins with a section that examines four primary types of millennialism Chapters in the next section examine key issues such as charismatic leadership use of scripture prophetic failure gender roles children tension with society and violence The rest of the book explores millennialism in a wide variety of places and times from ancient Near Eastern movements to contemporary apocalyptic and new age movements including the roles played by millennialism in national and international conflicts This handbook will be a valuable resource for scholars of religious studies sociology psychology history and new religious movements

Representing and (De)Constructing Borderlands Weronika Łaszkiwicz, Grzegorz Moroz, Jacek Partyka, 2016-02-08 This volume stems from the assumption that broadly understood borderlands as well as peripheries provinces or uttermost ends of different kinds are abodes of significant culture generating forces From the academic point of view their undeniable appeal lies in the fact that they constitute spaces of mutual interactions and enable new cultural phenomena to surface grow or decline and as such are worth thorough and constant scrutiny However they also provide the setting for radical clashes between ideologies languages religions customs and as the media report every single day armies or guerrilla units Living within such areas of creative dynamics and destructive friction or visiting them even vicariously as the contributors to the volume do is tantamount to exposing oneself to a difference One s response to this difference either in the form of rejection or more preferably acceptance or a mixture of both is not merely an index of one's tolerance a platitudinised term itself that all too often hides an attitude of comfortable indifference but an affirmation of humaneness Borderlands are paradoxical if not aporetic loci They simultaneously connote territories on either side of a border in a literal sense and a vague intermediate state or region in a metaphorical sense Encapsulating the idea of border the term indicates both inescapable nearness and unavoidable or perhaps unbridgeable separateness The studies included in the volume focus on various aspects of borderland art and literature on analyses of selected works and on the peculiarities of cultural and literary representations Thus the borderland landscape both literal and metaphorical comes to be seen as a factor contributing to the emergence of new distinct and identifiable themes and motifs as well as theoretical frameworks

Knowing the End From the Beginning Lester L. Grabbe, Robert D. Haak, 2004-05-01 Much study has taken place of the prophetic and apocalyptic writings in recent decades but the relationship between the two has been little explored A major explicit debate on the question is very much needed and is now provided This collection of essays addresses the subject from a variety of points of view including studies on the issues of definitions ancient Near Eastern prophecies social anthropology and modern apocalyptic movements In the introduction Lester Grabbe argues that many scholars operate with subconscious assumptions about how apocalyptic writings relate to the prophetic writings but that many of these assumptions now need to be questioned in the light of the essays in this volume Such a comprehensive attempt to tackle the main theoretical issues arising from the study of the prophetic and the apocalyptic has not been attempted for some time This volume brings fresh questions and insights that both specialists and students will want to consider
