Historical Dictionary of the Friends (Quakers) Margery Post Abbott, Mary Ellen Chijioke, Pink Dandelion, John William Oliver, 2011-12-01 The modern reputation of Friends in the United States and Europe is grounded in the relief work they have conducted in the presence and aftermath of war Friends also known as Quakers have coordinated the feeding and evacuation of children from war zones around the world They have helped displaced persons without regard to politics They have engaged in the relief of suffering in places as far flung as Ireland France Germany Ethiopia Egypt China and India Their work was acknowledged with the award of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1947 to the American Friends Service Committee AFSC and the Friends Service Council of Great Britain More often however Quakers live worship and work quietly without seeking public attention for themselves Now the Friends are a truly worldwide body and are recognized by their Christ centered message of integrity and simplicity as well as their nonviolent stance and affirmation of the belief that all people women as well as men may be called to the ministry The expanded second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the Friends Quakers relates the history of the Friends through a chronology an introductory essay an extensive bibliography and over 700 cross referenced dictionary entries on concepts significant figures places activities and periods This book is an excellent access point for scholars and students who will find the overviews and sources for further research provided by this book to be enormously helpful

Innovating Christian Education Research Johannes M. Luetz, Beth Green, 2021-01-04 This book reformulates Christian education as an interdisciplinary and interdenominational vocation for professionals and practitioners It speaks directly to a range of contemporary contexts with the aim of encouraging conceptual empirical and practice informed innovation to build the field of Christian education research The book invites readers to probe questions concerning epistemologies ethics pedagogies and curricula using multidisciplinary research approaches By helping thinkers to believe and believers to think the book seeks to stimulate constructive dialogue about what it means to innovate Christian education research today Chapters are organised into three main sections Following an introduction to the volume s guiding framework and intended contribution Chapter 1 Part 1 features conceptual perspectives and comprises research that develops theological philosophical and theoretical discussion of Christian education Chapters 2 13 Part 2 encompasses empirical research that examines data to test theory answer big questions and develop our understanding of Christian education Chapters 14 18 Finally Part 3 reflects on contemporary practice contexts and showcases examples of emerging research agendas in Christian education Chapters 19 24

For the Beauty of the Earth Steven Bouma-Prediger, 2010-04 This substantially revised and updated edition provides the most thorough evangelical treatment available on a theology of creation care

Faith, Hope, and Sustainability Cybelle T. Shattuck, 2021-06-01 Faith Hope and Sustainability explores the experiences of fifteen faith communities striving to care for the earth and live more sustainably A church in Maine partners with fishermen to create the first community supported fishery so they can make a living without overfishing A Jewish congregation in Illinois raises extra funds to construct a green synagogue that expresses their religious mission to heal the world Benedictine sisters in Wisconsin adopt caring for the earth as part of their mission and begin restoring one hundred acres of prairie reviving their community in the process Presbyterians in Virginia dismayed by air pollution in Shenandoah National Park take courage from their conviction that God does not call us to do little things and advocate for improved national air pollution policies Stories such as these highlight the variety of environmental actions that people of faith are enacting through congregational venues Beyond simply narrating inspiring stories however this book compares these case studies to explore in detail the processes through which the communities took action In addition to examining why faith communities engage in earth care Cybelle T Shattuck explores how they put intention into action and how the congregational context affects what they do She introduces an analytical framework focusing on four domains of activity champions faith leaders congregations and organizations to explicate the full range of factors that influence how initiatives develop and whether sustainability becomes embedded in these religious organizations Both the framework and the information on process presented in this book will be highly useful to scholars and to people of faith interested in implementing an earth care ethic through sustainability programs

Religion Index One, 2007 The Nature of Church Camp Christopher W. Anderson, 2023-12-18 The Nature of Church Camp An Environmental History of Outdoor Ministry 1945 1980 by Christopher W Anderson explores the mid twentieth century history of religious camps and retreat centers to provide new insights into the history of environmentalism in the United States Ecumenical Protestantism and the ecology movement both changed the calculus of American morality after World War II Through archival material case study visits and oral histories Anderson finds that these institutions often reacted to ecological critiques with temperate but gradual reforms However camps and outdoor ministries by virtue of their natural settings and sizable acreage soon provided a new way to explore the history of spirituality and ecology moving away from the conference campus and using nostalgia for the frontier instead to make arguments about the meaning of the American nation and the value of democracy This new way of thinking was reflected throughout the camps and enthusiastically endorsed decentralized small group camping By examining the conduct of church camps and conferences before during and after the ecological era Anderson shows how environmental stewardship became the dominant paradigm for Protestant environmentalism why that is a flawed and fractious model and why it has stalled

Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa

An Ecological Christian Anthropology E. M. Conradie, 2005

What is the place and vocation of human beings in the earth community This is the central question that this contribution towards a Christian ecological anthropology addresses In ecological theology this question is often answered by the affirmation that We are at home on earth This affirmation rightly responds to the widespread sense of alienation from nature to the anthropocentrism that pervades much of the Christian tradition and to concerns about the scope of environmental devastation This book challenges the affirmation that we are at home on earth examining natural suffering anxieties concerning human finitude and especially the pervasiveness of evil The book investigates contributions to ecological theology South African and African theology reformed theology and contemporary dialogues between theology and the sciences in search of a thoroughly ecological Christian anthropology The Catholic Periodical and Literature Index ,1992

Friends Journal ,2007 Earth, Faith and Mission Clive Ayre,2014-01-01 Earth Faith and Mission is essentially about the way in which these three critical aspects of the Christian Church and life relate with one another and argues that Earth care is not an optional extra or a side issue but part of what Christian mission is about The book begins with an overview of the environmental threats in our time and goes on to outline some common responses to the natural world The biblical and theological basis of ecological mission becomes the strong basis for the inclusion of creation care on the Church s mission agenda Then after considering the big picture or the way in which a consensus has emerged across many confessional lines the book addresses practical questions of what an Earth friendly approach to mission looks like The final issue is what it might mean to face the future with hope In this book we hear a genuine call to eco mission in the current environmental crisis Clive Ayre challenges the Christian churches of today to re think mission in the light of past theology current readings of the Bible and the cry of Earth in pain Clive moves beyond reflection on the basis for such a mission to provide a challenging agenda to stir churches into mission I would encourage you to hear Clive s call Norm Habel Professorial Fellow at Flinders University Adelaide Religion and the Environment: Religious environmentalism in action Roger S. Gottlieb,2010 In the last two decades a new form of religiously motivated social action and a virtually new field of academic study each based in recognition of the connections between religion and humanity s treatment of the environment have developed Interactions between religion and environmental concern have been manifest in the explosive growth of ecotheological writings institutional commitment by organized religions and environmental activism explicitly oriented to religious ideals Clergy throughout the world in virtually every denomination have received word from leaders of their religion that the environment no less than sexuality poverty or war and peace is now a basic and compelling religious matter Out of this confrontation have been born vital new theologies based in the recovery of marginalized elements of tradition profound criticisms of the past and ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings Theologians from every religious tradition along with dozens of non denominational spiritual writers have confronted world religions past attitudes towards nature In the realm of institutional commitment public statements and actions by organized religions have grown dramatically In the context of political action throughout the U S and the world religiously oriented groups take part in environmentally oriented political action from lobbying and consciousness raising to activist demonstrations and civil disobedience This collection serves as a comprehensive introduction overview and in depth account of these exciting new developments The four volumes cover virtually every aspect of the field from theological change and institutional commitment to innovation in liturgy from new ecumenical connections among different religions and between religion science and environmental movements from religious participation in environmental politics to an account of the global social and political contexts in which religious environmentalism has unfolded

Creation Care Discipleship Steven Bouma-Prediger,2023-10-17 Although our planet faces numerous ecological crises including climate change many Christians continue to view their faith as primarily a spiritual matter that has little relationship to the world in which we live But Steven Bouma Prediger contends that protecting and restoring our planet is part and parcel of what it means to be a Christian Making his case from Scripture theology and ethics and including insights from the global church Bouma Prediger explains why Christians must acknowledge their identity as earthkeepers and therefore embrace their calling to serve and protect their home planet and fellow creatures To help readers put an earthkeeping faith into practice he also suggests numerous practical steps that concerned believers can take to care for the planet Bouma Prediger unfolds a biblical vision of earthkeeping and challenges Christians to view care for the earth as an integral part of Christian discipleship
