Carnal Appetites Elspeth Probyn, 2003-09-02 In Carnal Appetites Elspeth Probyn charts the explosion of interest in food from the cults that spring up around celebrity chefs to our love hate relationship with fast food our fetishization of food and sex and the impact of our modes of consumption on our identities You are what you eat the saying goes but is the tenet truer than ever As the range of food options proliferates in the West our food choices become inextricably linked with our lives and lifestyles Probyn also tackles issues that trouble society asking questions about the nature of appetite desire greed and pleasure and shedding light on subjects including fast food vegetarianism food sex cannibalism forced feeding and fat politics

Embodied Food Politics Michael S. Carolan, 2016-04-29 While the phenomenon of embodied knowledge is becoming integrated into the social sciences critical geography and feminist research agendas it continues to be largely ignored by agro food scholars This book helps fill this void by inserting into the food literature living feeling sensing bodies and will be of interest to food scholars as well as those more generally interested in the phenomenon known as embodied realism This book is about the materializations of food politics materializations in this case referring to our embodied sensuous and physical connectivities to food production and consumption It is through these materializations argues Carolan that we know food and the food system more generally others and ourselves

The Psychopolitics of Food Mihalis Mentinis, 2016-06-10 The Psychopolitics of Food probes into the contemporary foodscape examining culinary practices and food habits and in particular the ways in which they conflate with neoliberal political economy It suggests that generic alimentary and culinary practices constitute technologies of the self and the body and argues that the contemporary preoccupation with food takes the form of rites of passage that express and mark the transition from a specific stage of neoliberal development to another vis vis a re configuration of the alimentary and sexual regimes Even though these rites of passage are taking place on the borders of cultural bi polarities their function nevertheless is precisely to define these borders as sites of a neoliberal transitional demand that is to produce a cultural bifurcation between eating orders and eating dis orders by promoting and naturalising certain social logics while simultaneously rendering others as abject and anachronistic The book is a worthwhile read for researchers and advanced scholars in the areas of food studies critical psychology anthropology and sociology

Food Words Peter Jackson, 2013-06-27 Featuring a series of highly original and lively essays Food Words traces the multiple meanings of the most important keywords in the fast moving field of food studies This is essential reading for all food scholars and students

Reframing Convenience Food Peter Jackson, Helene Brembeck, Jonathan Everts, Maria Fuentes, Bente Halkier, Frej Daniel Hertz, Angela Meah, Valerie Viehoff, Christine Wenzl, 2018-05-21 This book questions the simplistic view that convenience food is unhealthy and environmentally unsustainable By exploring how various types of convenience food have become embedded in consumers lives it considers what lessons can be learnt from the commercial success of convenience food for those who seek to promote healthier and more sustainable diets The project draws on original findings from comparative research in the UK Denmark Germany and Sweden funded through the ERA Net Sustainable Food programme Reframing Convenience Food avoids moral judgments about convenience food and instead provides a refreshingly novel perspective guided by an understanding of everyday consumer practice It will appeal to those with an interest in the sociology and politics behind health consumerism sustainability and society Journal for the Study of Food and Society ,1998 Eating Ethnic Alison Davies,2005 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2000 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Mutilating the Body Kim Hewitt,1997 Mutilating the Body Identity in Blood and Ink is an analysis of the different ways in which people use their bodies for self expression that considers the significance of body modification and how different forms of body art and alteration serve individual and cultural needs The book also addresses eating disorders self cutting and ritualized consensual sadomasochism
