African Christianity:

Making African Christianity Robert J. Houle, 2011-08-29 In the beginning Being Zulu and Christian Conflicting identities Revival Naturalizing the faith A Zulu church Conclusion The Blessing of Africa Keith Augustus Burton, 2007-07-25 Keith A Burton traces the story of biblical Africa and the place of the Bible in the land of Ham He ends with an examination of the modern era and the achievements of African Christianity This invigorating work places the story of the Bible and African Christianity in a wider global context and challenges readers to think differently about history and the biblical world Drums of Redemption Harvey J. Sindima, 1999-03-30 This book covers the history of Christianity in Africa from the first century to the present highlighting the roles of the Coptic and Ethiopian Churches in preserving Christianity and inspiring African nationalism in the case of the Ethiopian Church The author discusses the involvement of Africans and African Americans in the planting of Christianity in Africa and presents an in depth and extensive study of the origin and development of African theology This is the first book to cover the presence of Christianity in Africa from the first century in a continuous fashion discussing all the contributions of Africans in the formulation of doctrine as well as covering contemporary issues The Will to Arise Caleb Oluremi Oladipo, 2006 One of the most important developments of Christianity in the twentieth century was its transformation in South Africa where it became a vibrant religion rooted in African idioms and cultures The church also became engaged in the struggle against social and political injustice and church leaders employed the vocabularies of faith to secure civil liberty This hard hitting book focuses on post apartheid Christian character and establishes the theological and spiritual authority of African Christians calling contemporary Christians to renew their faith and Christian identity It shows too that one cannot seriously consider contemporary Christianity apart from the African experience African Christianity Paul Gifford, 1998-07-22 These detailed analyses of the state of the churches in each country suggest more general patterns operating widely across sub Saharan Africa Christianity in Africa and the African Diaspora Afe Adogame, Roswith Gerloff, Klaus Hock, 2008-11-13 The rapid development of African Christianity and its offshoots in the Diaspora is rooted in colonial history and resistance to oppression exploitation and slavery Christianity in Africa and the African Diaspora offers new resources for the interpretation and analysis of African Christian movements It draws attention to a number of key issues including the translatability of the Christian faith the process of contextualization in various cultures the place and role of indigenous agencies the global impact of contemporary African Christian expressions its influence on ecumenical relations and inter religious encounters and its way of shaping new religious identities and landscapes in response to power relations and artificial boundaries Topics covered include the concept of diaspora deconstructing colonial mission conversion African cosmologies African retentions female leadership dynamics liberation theology a new discourse around HIV AIDS transnational religious networks pentecostal charismatic movements charismatic renewal within former mission churches dynamics of reverse mission outreach via cyberspace specific studies on Anglican

Baptist Adventist and Kimbanguist missions and the need for intercultural and interdenominational bridge building

African Christology Clifton R. Clarke, 2011 The degree to which Christianity has been embraced by Africa south of the Sahara has been a phenomenon that has led to a closer examination of the mutual impact of the Christian faith and African culture A very important question in this continuing debate is how African Christians can embrace a faith which came to them via Europe and North America in a way that is true to the Bible and at the same time be the religion of African people For many the African Indigenous churches epitomize this tension between faith and culture At the center of this debate lies Jesus Christ How are Africans in post missionary Africa to speak of Christ in a way that is truly meaningful to the African and through the worldview that is their own Clarke questions the theological axis on which Christology in Africa has revolved and upon which Christological discourse has been developed He advocates a re examination of the language and symbolism or orality as a means of articulating who Jesus is for Africans in ways that are suitable to their context and worldview Drawing upon a large scale questionnaire survey other qualitative research methods and theologians and researchers of African religions and culture Clarke represents a grassroots perspective of the way Christ is experienced in Akan African Indigenous Churches in Ghana Chafing for too long under the yoke of a Western Christianity that was irrelevant to their context African Spirit churches have emerged with a vigorous inculturated faith pitched at the wavelength of African need The biblical Christ they joyfully worship resembles thinks like and speaks like an African African Christology adds this significant voice to the Christological conversation expanding and enriching it with unique illuminating insights and perspectives A needed contribution to theological scholarship and global Christianity Trevor Grizzle Professor of New Testament Oral Roberts University Clarke s African Christology is a must read not only for those interested in African theology nor only for scholars historians and missiologists of African Christianity but for all interested in and called to the Christian theological enterprise in a post western post Enlightenment and post Christendom world Systematicians dogmaticians and academic theologians across the discipline who take up this book will be challenged to rethink their methodological paradigms for Christian theological discourse in the twenty first century Amos Yong J Rodman Williams Professor of Theology Regent University Much has been written on the mission history of the African Independent Churches arguably the most significant development in African Christianity within the last century Clifton s useful study takes us into their understanding of Jesus Christ The extensive use it makes of their oral theological discourses on Jesus Christ enables us to appreciate the Christological significance of Christian religious innovation in Africa J Kwabena Asamoah Gyadu Professor of African Christianity and Pentecostal Theology Trinity Theological Seminary Ghana Clifton Clarke is Associate Professor of Global Missions and World Christianity at Regent University and is an ordained bishop in the Church of God Cleveland TN

East African Expressions of Christianity Thomas T. Spear, Isaria N. Kimambo, 1999 Christianity has been spread in Africa by Africans It is the story of peoples seizing control of their own spiritual destinies rather than the commonplace notion that the continent's Christian churches represent colonial and capitalist powers that helped subdue Africans to European domination In short once introduced Christianity took on a powerful life of its own and spun out of the control of those who would retain ownership of doctrine and practice East African Expressions of Christianity examines the experiences of African Christians as they explored the new faith interpreted it in the context of their own values appropriated it for themselves and forged their own distinctive churches Prominent Tanzanian and American historians anthropologists political scientists and church people examine the translation of religious meanings across cultural boundaries the religious and social appeal of the new faith and the vital roles played by African evangelists teachers and translators in the spread of Christianity and the development of an African church

Bible and Theology in African Christianity John S. Mbiti, 1986 In this book the well known Kenyan theologian John Mbiti takes the reader on a pilgrimage of the mind and spirit as he examines the phenomenon of Christianity in Africa This is a fascinating form of the Christian faith combining certain characteristics of apostolic Christianity with the realities of African life in the present It is fresh and fragile dynamic and domineering It echoes the experiences of the early church while at the same time responding forcefully to the situation of today The author explains how this form of Christianity while leaning heavily on the religious culture and background of the African peoples seeks and finds its legitimation in the bible He illustrates that it is both deeply African and committedly ecumenical and universal A 16 page section of the photographs vividly underlines the theme

Ancient African Christianity David E. Wilhite, 2017-07-14 Christianity spread across North Africa early and it remained there as a powerful force much longer than anticipated While this African form of Christianity largely shared the Latin language and Roman culture of the wider empire it also represented a unique tradition that was shaped by its context Ancient African Christianity attempts to tell the story of Christianity in Africa from its inception to its eventual disappearance Well known writers such as Tertullian Cyprian and Augustine are studied in light of their African identity and this tradition is explored in all its various expressions This book is ideal for all students of African Christianity and also a key introduction for anyone wanting to know more about the history religion and philosophy of these early influential Christians

Christianity and Suffering Rodney L. Reed, 2017-12-14 We often hear these days that the centre of Christianity is moving toward the Global South and Africa is a key player in that movement This makes the study of African Christianity and African realities important even more so when it is being done by Africans themselves in their own context The Africa Society of Evangelical Theology ASET was created to encourage research and sustained theological reflection on key issues facing Africa by and for African Christians and those working within African contexts The volumes in the ASET series constitute the best papers presented at the annual conferences of ASET and together they seek to fill this important gap in the literature of Christianity Africa is all too familiar with suffering Yet there is a dearth of sustained theological reflection on suffering by Africans or for Africans

Christianity and Suffering African Perspectives addresses this need and is the fruit of the 5th Annual Conference of the Africa Society of Evangelical Theology The contributions address age old issues like why God does not prevent or relieve human suffering they wrestle with causes of suffering including witchcraft poverty curses and war and they also explore appropriate Christian responses to suffering

all from within the African context The Africa Society of Evangelical Theology ASET is a professional society founded in 2009 for the purpose of fostering evangelical theological scholarship and to facilitate collegial relationships among scholars and practitioners of the Christian religion in Africa Its core values are 1 Faithfulness to the Bible 2 Professional ethics 3 Creative and critical thinking 4 Christ like humility 5 Community of scholars encouraging respecting and learning from one another and 6 Development and inspiration of young scholars To learn more about ASET please visit its Facebook page facebook com AfricaSocietyOfEvangelicalTheology

African Christianity Ogbu Kalu,2007 It is ideologically driven to build a group of church historians who will tell the story of African Christianity not Christianity in Africa as an African story by intentionally privileging the patterns of African agency without neglecting the noble roles played by missionaries The effort has been to identify the major themes or story lines in African encounters and in the appropriation of the gospel from publisher description
