African Decolonization:

The Decolonization Of Africa David Birmingham,2008-02-20 This bold popularizing synthesis presents a readily accessible introduction to one of the major themes of the twentieth century world history Between 1922 when self government was restored to Egypt and 1994 when non racial democracy was achieved in South Africa no less than 54 new nations were established in Africa Written within the parameters of African history as opposed to imperial history this study charts the process of nationalism liberation and independence that recast the political map of Africa in these years Ranging from Algeria in the North where a French colonial government used armed force to combat the Algerian aspirations of home rule to the final overthrow of apartheid in the South this is an authoritative survey that will be welcomed by all students tackling this complex and challenging topic

African Independence Tukurfu Zuberi,2015-08-01 African Independence highlights the important role Africa has played in recent history and the significant role it will continue to play in the future of America and the globe In a world where much of the power and wealth remains concentrated in the hands of a very few people this book looks at how the history of African independence has touched all people from refugees to heads of state Author Tukurfu Zuberi weaves exclusive interview excerpts and stories from many Africans he has met with old newsreels current news and reports and research into a larger narrative that takes readers through key events in African history and shows their importance today The book provides context for understanding connections between events in Africa and the world such as Nigeria s Boko Haram acts of war against the citizens of Nigeria and neighboring states China s rise as the main superpower with the largest financial connections to the African continent and the so called war against terrorism Zuberi is also the director of the documentary African Independence which has won awards including Best Director and Best Documentary at the San Diego Black Film Festival Best Director at The People s Film Festival Best African Film at the San Diego Black Film Festival and more Both alone and together the book and film offer a deeper understanding of Africa s central role in world affairs

Unpopular Sovereignty Luise White,2015-03-23 In 1965 the white minority government of Rhodesia after 1980 Zimbabwe issued a unilateral declaration of independence from Britain rather than negotiate a transition to majority rule In doing so Rhodesia became the exception if not anathema to the policies and practices of the end of empire In Unpopular Sovereignty Luise White shows that the exception that was Rhodesian independence did not in fact make the state that different from new nations elsewhere in Africa indeed this history of Rhodesian political practices reveals some of the commonalities of mid twentieth century thinking about place and race and how much government should link the two White locates Rhodesia s independence in the era of decolonization in Africa a time of great intellectual ferment in ideas about race citizenship and freedom She shows that racists and reactionaries were just as concerned with questions of sovereignty and legitimacy as African nationalists were and took special care to design voter qualifications that could preserve their version of legal statecraft Examining how the Rhodesian state managed its own governance and electoral politics she casts an oblique and revealing light by which to rethink the narratives of decolonization Decolonization in Africa John D. Hargreaves,2014-07-30 John Hargreaves examines how the British French Belgian Spanish and Portuguese colonies in tropical Africa became independent in the postwar years and in doing so transformed the international landscape African demands for independence and colonial plans for reform central to the story are seen here in the wider context of changing international relationships Decolonization and African Independence Prosser Gifford,William Roger Louis,1988

The Pattern of African Decolonization: a New Interpretation Warren Weinstein,John J. Grotpeter,1973 Study based on case studies of Botswana Burundi Lesotho Rwanda and Swaziland demonstrating that the momentum toward independence was supplied more by political opposition to the role of European colonial powers than by colonial reaction to the pressures of African nationalism asserts that the development of political partys was at least in part a response to the initiative of the powers of colonialism and cites the role of chiefs tribal peoples in the emerging political process References The Political Thought of African Independence Gregory R. Smulewicz-Zucker,2017-09-01 The Political Thought of African Independence An Anthology of Sources brilliantly frames the debates that captivated the world as former European colonies in Africa began their transition to sovereign rule in the 1950s and 60s Its wealth of key documents are enhanced by Gregory Smulewicz Zucker s General Introduction part introductions headnotes and annotations providing needed contextual information and supports for readers Decolonization in West African States, with French Colonial Legacy Aguibou Y. Yansané,1984

The Oxford Handbook of Modern African History John Parker,Richard Reid,2013-10-10 The Oxford Handbook of Modern African History represents an invaluable tool for historians and others in the field of African studies This collection of essays produced by some of the finest scholars currently working in the field provides the latest insights into and interpretations of the history of Africa a continent with a rich and complex past An understanding of this past is essential to gain perspective on Africa s current challenges and this accessible and comprehensive volume will allow readers to explore various aspects political economic social and cultural of the continent s history over the last two hundred years Since African history first emerged as a serious academic endeavour in the 1950s and 1960s it has undergone numerous shifts in terms of emphasis and approach changes brought about by political and economic exigencies and by ideological debates This multi faceted Handbook is essential reading for anyone with an interest in those debates and in Africa and its peoples While the focus is determinedly historical anthropology geography literary criticism political science and sociology are all employed in this ground breaking study of Africa s past Global Geopolitical Power and African Political and Economic Institutions John James Quinn,2015-12-30 Global Geopolitical Power and African Political and Economic Institutions When Elephants Fight describes the emergence and nature of the prevailing African political and economic institutions in two periods In the first most countries adopted political and economic institutions that funneled significant levels of political and economic power to the political elites usually through one or no party military political systems inward oriented development policies and or state led and often state owned industrialization In the second period most countries adopted institutions that diluted the overarching political and economic power of ruling elites through the adoption of de jure multiparty electoral systems more outward oriented trade policies and the privatization of many state owned or controlled sectors though significant political and economic power remains in their hands The choices made in each period were consistent with prevailing ideas on governance and development the self interests of political elites and the perceived availability of support or autonomy vis vis domestic regional and international sources of power at the time This book illustrates how these two region wide shifts in prevailing political and economic institutions and practices of Africa can be linked to two prior global geopolitical realignments the end of WWII with the ensuing American and Soviet led bipolar system and the end of the Cold War with American primacy Each period featured changed or newly empowered international and regional leaders with competing national priorities within new intellectual and geopolitical climates altering the opportunities and constraints for African leaders in instituting or maintaining particular political and economic institutions or practices The economic and political institutions of Africa that emerged did so as a result of a complex mix of contending domestic regional and international forces material and intellectual all which were themselves greatly transformed in the wake of these two global geopolitical realignments

Tears, Fire, and Blood James H. Meriwether, 2021-10-19 In the mid twentieth century the struggle against colonial rule fundamentally reshaped the world and the lives of the majority of the world's population Decolonization Black and Brown freedom movements the establishment of the United Nations and NATO an exploding Cold War a burgeoning world human rights movement all became part of the dramatic events that swept through Africa at a furious pace with fifty nations gaining independence in roughly fifty years Meanwhile the United States emerged as the most powerful and influential nation in the world with the ability politically economically militarily and principles to help or hinder the transformation of the African continent Tears Fire and Blood offers a sweeping history of how the United States responded to decolonization in Africa James H Meriwether explores how Washington grappling with national security interests and racial prejudices veered between strengthening African nationalist movements seeking majority rule and independence and bolstering anticommunist European allies seeking to maintain white rule Events in Africa helped propel the Black freedom struggle around the world and ultimately forced the United States to confront its support for national ideals abroad as it fought over how to achieve equality at home

Africa since Decolonization Martin Welz, 2021-01-21 An introduction to African history and politics since decolonization emphasising the political economic and socio economic diversity of the continent

Against Decolonisation Olúfẹ́mi Táíwò, 2022-06-30 Decolonisation has lost its way Originally a struggle to escape the West's direct political and economic control it has become a catch all idea often for performing morality or authenticity it suffocates African thought and denies African agency Ol f mi T w fiercely rejects the indiscriminate application of decolonisation to everything from literature language and philosophy to sociology psychology and medicine He argues that the decolonisation industry obsessed with cataloguing wrongs is seriously harming scholarship on and in Africa He finds decolonisation of culture intellectually unsound and wholly unrealistic conflating modernity with coloniality and groundlessly advocating an open ended undoing of global society s foundations Worst of all today s movement attacks its own cause decolonisers themselves are disregarding infantilising and imposing values on contemporary African thinkers This powerful much needed intervention questions whether today s decolonisation truly serves African empowerment T w s is a bold challenge to respect African intellectuals as innovative adaptors appropriators and synthesisers of ideas they have always seen as universally relevant

Decolonization Process in Africa During the Post-war Era, 1960-1990 Charles Ohiri Chikeka,1998 Examines the efforts of African states to complete the decolonization process focussing on Botswana Malawi Tanzania and Zaire as representative examples Decolonization, Development and Knowledge in Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni,2020-04-30 This provocative book is anchored on the insurgent and resurgent spirit of decolonization of the twenty first century The author calls upon Africa to turn over a new leaf in the domains of politics economy and knowledge as it frees itself from imperial global designs and global coloniality With a focus on Africa and its Diaspora the author calls for a radical turning over of a new leaf predicated on decolonial turn and epistemic freedom The key themes subjected to decolonial analysis include 1 decolonization decoloniality articulating the meaning and contribution of the decolonial turn 2 subjectivity identity examining the problem of Blackness identity as external and internal invention 3 the Bandung spirit of decolonization as an embodiment of resistance and possibilities development and self improvement 4 development and self improvement of African political economy as entangled in the colonial matrix of power and the African Renaissance as weakened by undecolonized political and economic thought and 5 knowledge the role of African humanities in the struggle for epistemic freedom This groundbreaking volume opens the intellectual canvas on the challenges and possibilities of African futures It will be of great interest to students and scholars of Politics and International Relations Development Sociology African Studies Black Studies Education History Postcolonial Studies and the emerging field of Decolonial Studies
