African Liberation Movements Richard Gibson, 1972-09 The African Liberation Reader: The national liberation movements Aquino de Bragança, Immanuel Maurice Wallerstein, 1982 African liberation movements Richard Gibson, 1972

National Liberation Movements as Government in Africa Redie Bereketeab, 2017-09-08 Africa is well known for the production of national liberation movements NLMs stemming from a history of exploitation colonisation and slavery NLMs are generally characterised by a struggle carried out by or in the name of suppressed people for political social cultural economic territorial liberation and decolonisation Dozens of NLMs have ascended to state power in Africa following a successful violent popular struggle either as an outright military victory or a negotiated settlement National Liberation Movements as Government in Africa analyses the performance of NLMs after they gain state power The book tracks the initial promises and guiding principles of NLMs against their actual record in achieving socio economic development goals such as peace stability state building and democratisation The book explores the various different struggles for liberation whether against European colonialism white minority rule neighbouring countries or for internal reform or regime change Bringing together case studies from Somalia Somaliland Uganda Ethiopia Eritrea South Sudan Namibia Angola Mozambique South Africa Zimbabwe and Algeria the book builds a comprehensive analysis of the challenges NLMs face when ascending to state power and why so many ultimately end in failure This is an ideal resource for scholars policy makers and students with an interest in African development politics and security studies African Liberation Movements and Support Groups, 1972 African Liberation Movements Joseph P. Smaldone, 1974 African Liberation Movement University of Dar es Salaam. Library, 1979* The African Liberation Struggle Godfrey Mwakikagile, 2018-05-06 This work focuses on the liberation struggle from the 1960s to the 1990s in the countries of southern Africa to end white minority rule The author writes from personal experience When the Organisation of African Unity OAU was formed in Addis Ababa Ethiopia in May 1963 Tanganyika now Tanzania was chosen to be the headquarters of the OAU Liberation Committee All the African liberation movements went on to open their offices in Tanzania s capital Dar es Salaam Many refugees fleeing oppression in the countries of southern Africa also went to live in Tanzania The author was a young news reporter in Dar es Salaam in the early seventies and got the chance to know some of the freedom fighters and their leaders who were based there during those days He also interviewed a number of them and has provided an additional perspective to his work as a primary source of some of the material included in his book It was one of the most important periods in the history of post colonial Africa Most countries on the continent had won independence by 1968 The toughest struggle was in the few strongholds of white minority rule in the southern part of the continent and in the Portuguese colony of Guinea Bissau Cape Verde in West Africa which finally ended in victory As President Nyerere once said Throughout history nationalist struggles have had one end victory Transnational Histories of Southern Africa's Liberation Movements Jocelyn Alexander, JoAnn

McGregor, Blessing-Miles Tendi, 2020-05-21 Transnational Histories of Southern Africa's Liberation Movements offers new perspectives on southern Africa's wars of national liberation drawing on extensive oral historical and archival research. Assuming neither the primacy of nationalist loyalties as they exist today nor any single path to liberation, the book unpicks any notion of a straightforward imposition of Cold War ideologies or strategic interests on liberation wars. This approach adds new dimensions to the rich literatures on the Global Cold War and on solidarity movements. The contributors trace the ways that ideas and practices were made, adopted and circulated through time and space through a focus on African soldiers, politicians and diplomats. The book also asks what motivated the men and women who crossed borders to join liberation movements, how Cold War influences were acted upon, interpreted and used, and why certain moments, venues and relations took on exaggerated importance. The connections among liberation movements between them and their hosts and across an extraordinarily diverse set of external actors reveal surprising exchanges and lasting legacies that have too often been obscured by the assertion of monolithic national histories. Tracing an extraordinarily diverse set of interactions and exchanges, Transnational Histories of Southern Africa's Liberation Movements will be of great interest to scholars of Southern Africa, Transnational History, the Cold War and African Politics. The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Southern African Studies. The African Liberation Reader: The strategy of liberation Aquino de Bragança, Immanuel Maurice Wallerstein, 1982 Liberation Movements in Southern Africa Nathan M. Shamuyarira, 1978 African Liberation Movements Sanford Berman, 1972 Directory of African Liberation Movements and Related Organizations Great Britain. Foreign and Commonwealth Office, 1971 No Easy Victories William Minter, Gail Hovey, Charles E. Cobb (Jr.), 2008 African news making headlines today is dominated by disaster, wars, famine, HIV. Those who respond from stars to ordinary citizens are learning that real solutions require more than charity. This book provides a comprehensive panoramic view of US activism in Africa from 1950 to 2000, activism grounded in a common struggle for justice. It portrays organisations, activists and networks that contributed to African liberation and in turn shows how African struggles informed US activism, including the civil rights and black power movements. Liberation Movement in Africa and African America, 2011 Composed of FBI surveillance files on the activities of the African Liberation Support Committee and All African People's Revolutionary Party, this collection provides two unique views on African American support for liberation struggles in Africa, the issue of Pan Africanism and the role of African independence movements as political leverage for domestic Black struggles. Southern African Liberation Movements and the Global Cold War 'East' Lena Dallywater, Chris Saunders, Helder Adegas Fonseca, 2019-06-17 In the global context of the Cold War, the relationship between liberation movements and Eastern European states obviously changed and transformed. Similarly, forms of material aid and ideological encouragement underwent changes over time. The articles assembled in this volume argue that the traditional Cold War geography of bi-polar competition with the United States is not sufficient to fully grasp these transformations The question of which side of the ideological divide was more successful or lucky in impacting actors and societies in the global south is still relevant yet the Cold War perspective falls short in unfolding the complex geographies of connections and the multipolarity of actions and transactions that exists until today Acknowledging the complexities of liberation movements in globalization processes the papers thus argue that activities need to be understood in their local context including personal agendas and internal conflicts rather than relying primarily on the traditional frame of Cold War competition They point to the agency of individual activists in both Africa and Eastern Europe and the lessons practices and languages that were derived from their often contradictory encounters In Southern African Liberation Movements authors from South Africa Portugal Austria and Germany ask What role did actors in both Southern Africa and Eastern Europe play What can we learn by looking at biographies in a time of increasing racial and international conflict And which creative solutions need to be found to combine efforts of actors from various ideological camps Building on archival sources from various regions in different languages case studies presented in the edition try to encounter the lack of a coherent state of the art They aim at combining the sometimes scarce sources with qualitative interviews to give answers to the many open questions regarding Southern African liberation movements and their connections to the East
