Afrikaners Of The Kalahari:

Afrikaners of the Kalahari Margo Russell, Martin Russell, 1979-03-08 The popular image of the Kalahari is a romantic one of desert space and untouched Bushmen The popular image of the Afrikaners is of a unique and vicious racialism Yet Afrikaners have been living in the Kalahari for more than a hundred years their presence often studiously ignored by writers and since 1961 independent Botswana with its policy of scrupulous non racialism has embraced both Afrikaner and Bushman in common citizenship This book attempts to describe the complex and mundane reality of ethnic relations in the Kalahari not only in the present harried by relentless pressure to enter the cash economy of modernisation but in the past Using oral history as a source the authors describe the Africanisation of these poor white pastoralists of the interior cut off by the thirland from those influences which gave contemporary Afrikanerdom its particular cast They describe the pragmatic relations developed by Afrikaners with other peoples of the interior and how these have been perceived and redefined with the decisive shift in political power from British to Tswana hands

Afrikaners of the Kalahari Margo Russell, Martin Russell, 2010-08-04 The popular image of the Kalahari is a romantic one of desert space and untouched Bushmen The popular image of the Afrikaners is of a unique and vicious racialism Yet Afrikaners have been living in the Kalahari for more than a hundred years their presence often studiously ignored by writers and since 1961 independent Botswana with its policy of scrupulous non racialism has embraced both Afrikaner and Bushman in common citizenship This book attempts to describe the complex and mundane reality of ethnic relations in the Kalahari not only in the present harried by relentless pressure to enter the cash economy of modernisation but in the past Using oral history as a source the authors describe the Africanisation of these poor white pastoralists of the interior cut off by the thirland from those influences which gave contemporary Afrikanerdom its particular cast They describe the pragmatic relations developed by Afrikaners with other peoples of the interior and how these have been perceived and redefined with the decisive shift in political power from British to Tswana hands

Genocide on Settler Frontiers Mohamed Adhikari, 2015-06-01 European colonial conquest included many instances of indigenous peoples being exterminated Cases where invading commercial stock farmers clashed with hunter gatherers were particularly destructive often resulting in a degree of dispossession and slaughter that destroyed the ability of these societies to reproduce themselves The experience of aboriginal peoples in the settler colonies of southern Africa Australia North America and Latin America bears this out The frequency with which encounters of this kind resulted in the annihilation of forager societies raises the question of whether these conflicts were inherently genocidal an issue not yet addressed by scholars in a systematic way

Libraries Smithsonian Institution. Libraries. National Museum of African Art Branch, 1991 Hidden Histories of Gordonia

Martin Legassick, 2016-04-01 The Gordonia region of the Northern Cape province has received relatively little attention from historians In Hidden Histories of Gordonia Land dispossession and resistance in the Northern Cape 1800 1990 Martin Legassick explores aspects of the generally unknown brown and black history of the region Emphasising the lives of ordinary people his writing is also in part an exercise in applied history historical writing with a direct application to people s lives in the present Tracing the indigenous history of Gordonia as well as the northward movement of Bastards and whites from the western Cape through Bushmanland to the Orange River the book presents accounts of family histories episodes of indigenous resistance to colonisation and studies of the ultimate imposition of racial segregation and land dispossession on the inhabitants of the region A recurrent theme is the question of identity and how the extreme ethnic fluidity and social mixing apparent in earlier times crystallised in the colonial period into racial identities until with final conquest came imposed racial classification

Rugby, Decolonisation and African Moral Philosophy Colin Chasi, 2026-04-15 This book examines the complex interrelationship between rugby honour and the African moral philosophy of ubuntu positioning sport within the broader history of coloniality to reveal how athletic practices can become powerful vehicles for social justice transformation The book offers a nuanced analysis of how Springbok rugby served as both an instrument of colonial and apartheid exclusion and a catalyst for democratic change in post apartheid South Africa The re entry of the Springboks into international rugby involved the transformation of South African rugby and sporting honour that is worthy of study from a decolonial perspective Through a creative methodological lens that centres ubuntu as a humanising philosophical framework the book explores how notions of sporting honour shaped racial boundaries and colonial conduct while simultaneously demonstrating sport s potential for advancing inclusion and social justice The book provides fresh insights into the connections between rugby and other sports South African colonial societies the collapse of apartheid and the transition to democracy By considering rugby as a postcolonial post apartheid sport it reveals nuanced complexities and possibilities for weaving a desirable fabric of inclusive sociality This involves transcending damaged and limiting notions of colonial honour and rethinking colonial violence through ubuntu s humanising principles offering a compelling critique that reimagines how rugby and sport more broadly can be re humanised and transformed into a force for positive social change This book will appeal to students scholars and academics across multiple disciplines including sports studies African philosophy postcolonial studies sociology and social justice research as well as anyone interested in sport ubuntu and social change more generally
