Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908-1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son. By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris. But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes. He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers. This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays, books, and articles from 1983 through 2003. Arranged alphabetically by author, within years are some 8,320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book-length studies of African American literature and literary criticism. Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author's earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982. This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics.

Chaotic Justice John Ernest, 2010-05 What is African American about African American literature? Why identify it as a distinct tradition? John Ernest contends that too often scholars have relied on naive concepts of race, superficial conceptions of African American history, and the marginalization of important strains of black scholarship. A Spirit of Dialogue Christopher N. Okonkwo, 2008 A groundbreaking study, A Spirit of Dialogue examines through extensive interdisciplinary research, theory, and close reading the intricate reconstructions, extensions, and resonances of the West African myth of spirit children, the Born to Die in contemporary African American neo-slave narratives. Arguing that the myth called Ogba je in Igbo language and b k in Yoruba has had over thirty years of uncharted presence in African American literature, Okonkwo advances a compelling case absent in extant scholarship. He traces Ogba je, the Born to Die's appearance in African American texts to a convergence of factors. They include but are not limited to the impact of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart, the 1960s emergence of the contemporary neo-slave narrative, the 1960s and 1970s Black Consciousness, Black Power movement, and the cultural agenda, gendered politics, and centripetal philosophy of the Black Arts movement's nationalist aesthetic. African American identity questions of the post-civil rights and the multicultural eras and the thematic shifts, as well as the African diaspora orientation of African American fiction of the post-nationalist aesthetic period. A Spirit of Dialogue focuses on the sometimes neglected and understudied works of four canonical African American writers: Octavia E. Butler's Wild Seed and Mind of My Mind; Tananarive Due's The Between; John Edgar Wideman's The Cattle Killing; and Toni Morrison's Sula and Beloved. Okonkwo demonstrates persuasively how the mythic spirit child informs the content and form of these novels offering Butler Due Wideman and Morrison a non occidental code by which to engage collectively with the various issues integral to the history experience of African descended people The paradigm functions then as the nexus of a life affirmative dialogue among the six novels as well as between them and other works of African religious and literary imagination particularly Things Fall Apart and Ben Okri s The Famished Road

A World of Difference Wendy Harding,Jacky Martin,1994-09-30 Throughout her novels Toni Morrison explores the complex interaction of race class culture and gender This study takes into account both Western and Black traditions to show how Morrison not only denounces the constricting patterns of the dominant culture but also through the reversal or subversion of Western stereotypes harnesses the rich potential for the significance they contain While most recent studies of Morrison examine individual works separately this book concentrates on particular dimensions of Morrison s fiction and explores the continuities and developments from her first to most recent novel And while other studies generally approach Morrison from a particular critical perspective this book instead considers the interaction of multiple determinants such as race and gender and gives special attention to the pressure exerted by dominant cultural forms The authors demonstrate how in contradiction to the dominant culture s ideology of unity and homogeneity Morrison makes a case for the value of difference in a diverse society Ann Petry Hazel Arnett Ervin,1993 Black Writers Linda Metzger,1989 Biographical and bibliographical entries on some 400 black authors active in the 20th century Some of the sketches are updated from Gale s Contemporary authors series others were written especially for this volume Covers not only contemporary American authors but also earlier 20th century writers social figures e g Malcolm X Desmond Tutu and important African and Caribbean writers In addition to the descriptive personal and career information there are illuminating biographical critical essays including comments often by the authors themselves on personal interests aspirations motivations and thoughts on writing Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Magical Realism in Novels of the Black World Théodore Bouabre,2004 Afro-Atlantic Dialogues Kevin A.
