After A Fashion:

After A Fashion Joanne Finkelstein,2013-02-01 Fashion is more than supermodels in odd clothes pouting and pirouetting on Parisian catwalks Commentators and theorists have variously seen fashion as a social economic or aesthetic force or sometimes as all three at once Fashion helps to form our individual identities and lets us stand out from the crowd Fashion appears to be novel At the same time it preserves the status quo it makes us think that change is occurring when the opposite is closer to the truth After a Fashion investigates the different sides of this hybrid phenomenon Joanne Finkelstein considers fashion in its various guises as body decoration and costume as a language and form of irrational play as an expression of sexuality and part of the urban experience Drawing on economics art psychology commerce history and the everyday she traces and analyses the multiple influences that in the name of fashion affect the ways we think and act
