Analytical Repertory of the Symptoms of the Mind Constantine Hering, 2001 The arrangement as well as the style of printing has the one object especially in view viz to make it as easy as possible for the eye and through the eye for the mind to find what is looked for

No Ordinary Man Lois Winslow-Spragge, 1993-06-30 George Mercer Dawson was indeed no ordinary man Born in 1849 son of the first Principal of McGill University Dawson defied health circumstances that would have defeated many people and went on to become one of our most exceptional Canadians As a geologist in the British North American Boundary Commission between Canada and the U S A and as Director of the Geological Survey of Canada in 1895 Dawson examined and explored every aspect of Canada s unknown territories This collection of writings letters diaries and essays begins with the young George and moves through his developing years to his adult life He climbed walked and rode on horseback over more of Canada than any other member of the Geological Survey of Canada at that time yet to look at him one would not think him capable of a day s hard physical labour It was his hand that first traced upon vacant maps the geological formations of the Yukon and much of British Columbia Lois Winslow Spragge To read about him is like taking a drink of water from a cool unpolluted spring His sense of values was so great that he once said he didn t care much for money or possessions All he wanted was what he could hold in his canoe Anne Byers Ottawa

Focus, Coherence and Emphasis Paul Werth,2016-11-18 First published in 1984 this book examines a number of questions on the boundary of competence and performance whose solutions have implications for linguistic theory in general In particular the form of grammatical statements the relationship between various rules of grammar the interaction between sentence in a sequence and the inferences to be drawn from linguistic behaviour to linguistic knowledge The author argues that many grammatical processes inadequately handled by conventional sentence grammars require a text grammar in which the basic constitutive processes of information and deixis can be specified They go further to investigate the novel hypothesis that emphatic structure provides a crucial condition for the application of transformational rules paying particular attention to the movement rules using mostly data culled from actual usage
