Bell, 2021-04-15 Nuclear Reactions analyzes how nuclear weapons change the calculations states make in their foreign policies why they do so and why nuclear weapons have such different effects on the foreign policies of different countries Mark S Bell argues that nuclear weapons are useful for more than deterrence They are leveraged to pursue a wide range of goals in international politics and the nations that acquire them significantly change their foreign policies as a result Closely examining how these effects vary and what those variations have meant in the United States the United Kingdom and South Africa Bell shows that countries are not generically emboldened they change their foreign policies in different ways based on their priorities This has huge policy implications What would Iran do if it were to acquire nuclear weapons Would Japanese policy toward the United States change if Japan were to obtain nuclear weapons And what does the looming threat of nuclear weapons mean for the future of foreign policy Far from being a relic of the Cold War Bell argues nuclear weapons are as important in international politics today as they ever were Thanks to generous funding from the University of Minnesota and its participation in TOME the ebook editions of this book are available as Open Access volumes available from Cornell Open cornellpress.cornell.edu/cornell-open and other repositories

The Globalization of World Politics John Baylis, Steve Smith, Patricia Owens, 2020 The best selling introduction to international relations offers the most comprehensive coverage of the key theories and global issues in world politics written by the leading experts in the field

Asia/Pacific as Space of Cultural Production Rob Wilson, Arif Dirlik, 1995 Although the Asia Pacific region occupies a prominent place in geopolitical thinking little is available to readers concerning the resistant communities and cultures of Pacific and Asian peoples This book fills that gap by documenting the efforts of diverse indigenous cultures to claim and reimagine Asia Pacific as a space for their own cultural production by presenting essays poems and memoirs by prominent Asia Pacific writers that resist appropriation by transnational capitalism through the articulation of autonomous local identities and counter histories of place and community In addition cultural critics spanning several locations and disciplines deconstruct representations particularly those on film and in novels that perpetuate Asia Pacific as a realm of EuroAmerican fantasy This collection offers a new perception of the Asia Pacific region by presenting the Pacific not as a paradise or vast emptiness but as a place where living struggling peoples have constructed contemporary identities out of a long history of hegemony and resistance back cover
