New Developments in Afterlife Communication R Craig Hogan Ph D,Carol Morgan, Dr,Bruce Moen,2014-06-16 Until this century while some people experienced personal spontaneous afterlife contacts in dream visitations physical signs and fleeting glimpses of loved ones people could not easily communicate with their loved ones in the afterlife at will Those who wanted to communicate with loved ones in the afterlife had to seek out a medium for a reading For ordinary people on the earth plane the next realm of life we call the afterlife was inaccessible and frightening However that condition is changing dramatically and rapidly Today ordinary people with no medium abilities are learning how to communicate with their loved ones in spirit New methods of communicating that require no medium abilities are being discovered refined and taught to grieving people Today virtually anyone can have a direct unmediated afterlife communication with loved ones in the afterlife There is such an array of these methods of afterlife communication that the Academy for Spiritual and Consciousness Studies devoted its 38th annual conference to having 21 researchers developers and practitioners describe to attendees the new methods of afterlife communication they have originated are using or are teaching This book contains papers written by the presenters that contain the same information they provided at the conference They are the conference proceedings

The Afterlife Connection Jane Greer, 2003-10-20 This fascinating and surprising book is the first ever by a classically trained therapist to explore the spiritual aspects of the bond that exists between the living and the dead Dr Jane Greer began with the belief that this bond was not purely a psychological one but was in fact much more dynamic and empowering It was only in the shattering aftermath of her own mother's death however a turning point that Dr Greer admits challenged her own ability to cope that she began to explore and understand how to recognize and even initiate an ongoing communication that can have a profound impact on the ways we grieve and heal In these pages we learn that transcommunication is not simply a hello from heaven but a powerful therapeutic tool that is available to any of us Through the story of her deceased mother's many dream visits and manifestations as well as those visits her patients receive from their loved ones we learn to be alert to the signs of such phenomena and to recognize the messages they contain We see how her patients come to feel safe and protected again as though they have a guardian angel once they learn to open themselves up to these possibilities Through this communication which is at once spiritual and very concrete the pain of grieving can be made more bearable Ambivalent relationships can be healed And a loved one's messages can bring relief and joy

Joan C. Winters,2007-10-26 From hypothesizing about the origins of the Human Animal Bond and how the first animals became domesticated to defining the bond and ultimately enumerating the many ways in which animals benefit society the opening of this work commands one s complete attention Just as all pet owners become intrigued by the rapid physical growth of a puppy or kitten the author reminds them to not only be witness to the physical nature of this process but to become attune to the more subtle changes that occur These changes are primarily rooted in the animal s sensitivities Having set the stage for these awe inspiring feelings she embarks on a most emotional yet at times humorous memoir of her departed Golden Retriever Ruff and his sibling and littermate Tumble The exploits of these animals together with their adopted feline sister will have the reader experiencing the heights of laughter together with the depths of grief It is a remarkable roller coaster of emotion that rings so true in its parallels to everyday life The poetic prowess of her husband AD is obvious in the two pieces he authors within the book The final chapter of the book deals with the seriousness of loss for individuals Whether the loss is a pet or person the coping methodologies are similar The discussion of souls the levels of love and the enduring bonds provides a venue to release grief to be open to afterlife communications and to realize that some things last forever This profound conclusion applies to both humans and animals alike with minimal changes Readers will find this book therapeutic in terms of dealing with the raw pain and emotion following a loss in their family For this is the very reason that the author wrote this work that is to bring healing to those in need
